THINK SISTER HOLDS MURDER CLUE

TUCKER FAITHFULL BRANDED AS ENIGMA BY INVESTIGATORS

Proves Mystery In Probe
Of Murder Of Beauty

NEW YORK, June 12.—Elizabeth Tucker Faithfull, chic 19-year-old sister of the slain New York beauty, Starr Faithfull, today was branded as the enigma in the solution of the mysterious murder of Starr.

"If Elizabeth would talk—" said District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau County as he prepared to go before a grand jury today in Mineola with the case. He intimated that the girl knew more about the murder of her sister than she had revealed.

Elizabeth's departure from New York at the same time the girl disappeared from her home here last Friday was one point on which Edwards wished to question Elizabeth when she appeared today with her mother and her step-father, Stanley E. Faithfull, before the grand jury.

Part of the time between Friday, when Starr vanished, and Monday, when her body was found on a nearby beach, Elizabeth said she was in Boston. Faithfull said she was in New York.

"Elizabeth has been very mysterious about where she spent the week end," Edwards said. "She may have been with her sister. Remember, there were two men."

The two men referred to by the district attorney were the pair the elevator operator said he saw with the slain girl either Thursday or Friday of last week. Edwards was believed to have halted cremation of the girl's last night so that the elevator operator could look at the body today.

Elizabeth had informed the authorities that Starr went out last Thursday with two men she met on the liner Franconia. Starr, it was said, had told Elizabeth she was going out with the same men the next day, which was Friday, the day she disappeared.

Edwards does not believe that Starr was alone with the two men.

WOMAN ADMITS BEING MULCTED OUT OF $22,000

Fake Realty Deal Used;
Identifies Two
Con Men

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Mrs. Sarah Silberberg, wife of a reputedly wealthy East Side wholesale grocer here today reported to police she had been swindled out of $22,000 in a fake real estate deal engineered by two alleged confidence men.

The woman identified the pair whom she said had duped her from Bertillon records at police headquarters. Search was started immediately for the men.

According to Mrs. Silberberg's story to detectives, she gave the men the money in cash yesterday so they could purchase a valuable piece of property for her in Lake Wood, a suburb. She said the men returned a brief case to her which they said contained her money and told her to meet them at a designated spot several hours later.

When they failed to return, Mrs. Silberberg grew suspicious and discovered the brief case contained only a pile of worthless paper.

HOME EVEN GETS NEW BUS

A no-new-car rule had been adopted for the 1931-32 appropriations by the Ohio Senate finance committee at the legislative session now in progress, but when they were confronted with an appeal for one new auto for the O. S. and S. O. Home in Xenia, members of the committee simply didn't have the heart to turn a deaf ear.

The biennial budget of the institution contained a request for a new passenger bus for the transportation of pupils on trips, and the finance committee was informed the Home is sorely in need of a new bus.

Committee members were told that the present institutional "hack" has outlived its usefulness and that it breaks down on an average of once every trip out. As a matter of fact, the driver now knows what to expect and is said to carry a spare rear axle on every journey.

LEGISLATURE COMPLETES MOST OF NEW OHIO TAXATION PROGRAM

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—With the major part of the taxation program—the intangible and motor vehicle tax bills—out of the way, the path seemed clear today for the state legislature to pack up and adjourn next Thursday or Friday.

One of the biggest problems remaining to bother the assembly is the bugaboo budget, and although the legislature was holding its customary week-end recess today, the house finance committee met here to perspire over the task of lopping about $15,000,000 from the

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO CONSIDER LEGAL BEER MANUFACTURE

Bingham Interested In Economic Effect Of
Plan

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The new congress will be asked to investigate the economic and social effects of legalizing four per cent beer, in view of the Wickham commission's failure to complete such an inquiry, it was announced today by Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut.

Bingham declared he would introduce his bill, amending the Volstead act to permit the manufacture, transportation and sale of four per cent beer. He said he would have it referred to the senate manufacturers committee, of which Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin is chairman, and ask that committee to conduct the inquiry into its economic and social effects.

A like inquiry was undertaken last spring by individual members of the Wickham commission, who at the time considered the effect of legalizing beer. Questionnaires sent out at the instance of one member of the commission brought a host of information but the commission decided this phase of investigating the prohibition question was beyond the scope of its inquiry, so that no official action was taken on the subject.

Bingham joined with Rep. Dyer (R) of Missouri, and Senator Wagner (D) of New York in declaring the legal sale of beer would tend to solve both the unemployment problem and the current depression. He rather agreed with Dyer, that state and federal revenues from such a legalized trade would solve the tax problems of the nation.

"It seems that in view of the fact that many experts—toxicologists and physiologists—have declared four per cent beer is not deleterious in fact, this is a proper problem for congress to consider. We should learn the effect of legalizing four per cent beer on business, in general, determine its legality under the constitutional amendment, and its general effect on society," Bingham said.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

STEBENVILLE, O., June 12.—The accidental discharge of his shotgun when he fell from a fence late yesterday caused the death of Walter Clark, 44-year-old farmer, authorities were convinced today after the completion of an investigation.

Who Caught Pet Trout At Rapidan? Dispute Rages

WASHINGTON, June 12.—As the imaginative writers would say, another bombshell has been exploded in the great Rapidan fishing controversy—a controversy which began when Assistant Secretary of the Navy E. L. Jahncke formally charged Ambassador Hugh Gibson with fishing in one of the ornamental pools at President Hoover's mountain camp and catching a rainbow trout which turned out to be "Toby," the pet of little Peggy Anne, who is the executive's five-year-old granddaughter.

Today's latest development was the revelation that Gibson was not the first weekend guest at Camp Rapidan to catch one of these liver-fished, and therefore sacred, fish. Rep. Will R. Wood (R) of Indiana, hard-boiled chairman of the house ways and means committee, was the first offender, according to reliable information, and Wood is one who prides himself on his piscatorial ability.

As the story goes, Wood, who was present the week-end the war department officials conferred over paring the army budget, decided to get in a little fishing while the warriors caucused. Reminiscing, no doubt, of that last 75-pound sailfish he caught in Florida, the Hoosier took rod and reel and went in quest of a pool along the stream.

Fate guided him to the one in front of the President's cabin, where there are naught but rainbow trout, fed daily by the help and far superior in size to the scrawny brook trout for which Mr. Hoover casts downstream. No sooner was his fly on the water, of course, than he had a robust bite.

Wood took the fish back to show the President. "Hump," said Mr. Hoover, "you'd better keep out of my aquarium."

But the congressman was not smarting under such formal charges as Jahncke lodged with Ambassador Charles G. Dawes, as dean of the American diplomatic corps, against Gibson. Jahncke wrote our envoy to London that had not Captain Joel T. Boone, White House physician, recognized "Toby" while he was in the frying pan, he unwittingly would have been placed in the position of eating little Peggy Anne's pet.

The ambassador to Belgium was quick to defend his character. In rebuttal, Gibson, too wrote Dawes and explained he had not caught "Toby," but a "canibal fish" which had escaped from one of the pools and was killing the smaller fish in the stream, much to the President's dismay. In fact, he asserted the President sent him out to snare the carnivorous trout, being acquainted with his "superlative skill in fishing." He refused to accept Dr. Boone's identification as authentic and said the only thing that would have any weight with him would be a statement "from an interested party, which is impossible, since Peggy Anne is in California and the fish is dead."

Gibson concluded by suggesting that the assistant secretary was inspired to file his complaint by one of the following considerations: (1) "He was consumed with jealousy at my accomplishment;" (2) "He was fearful that further efforts to reduce the navy may negate him out of the job;" or (3) that Jahncke himself caught "Toby" and sought to divert suspicion.

MINE WORKERS ASK PRESIDENT TO CALL JOINT CONFERENCE

Move To Stabilize Industry
Started At
Meeting

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—President Herbert Hoover was asked to call a joint conference of the nation's coal operators and miners for stabilizing the coal industry, in a resolution adopted by the executive board of the United Mine Workers in session at the international headquarters here.

The resolution signed by International President John L. Lewis set out that "unrestrained competition has degraded thousands of bituminous coal miners to levels approximating serf labor" and that a joint parley of operators and miners was necessary "for the purpose of mutually discussing the problems of the industry and finding a common understanding."

The miners' resolution warned that "the inhuman plight of women and children in the coal mining regions, the insecurity of capital assets of the coal companies and the degradation of the men employed in the mines are breeding communism and anarchy."

President Hoover was reminded that "your knowledge and experience as a mining engineer especially equips you to recognize the necessity of the bituminous coal industry's adopting a program stabilizing labor costs as the first fundamental step to a correction of present day evils."

BURGLAR SHOT BY HOUSEWIFE

AKRON, O., June 12.—Joseph F. Liptrot, 23, of Akron, was shot and critically wounded here today by Mrs. Lily Henderson, police said, when Liptrot allegedly was caught in the act of burglarizing the Henderson residence.

Questioned at police headquarters, Mrs. Henderson declared she fired at the man as he started up the front stairway of her home, according to authorities.

Four of six shots fired from an automatic pistol struck Liptrot, two charges taking effect in his stomach. Attached at City Hospital held little hope for his recovery.

Mrs. Henderson was held by police, pending outcome of the man's injuries.

TWO THOUSAND NINE STRIKERS ATTEMPT TO FREE PRISONERS

will be made to Governor George White for national guard protection.

Belmont County commissioners appropriated $25,000 yesterday to combat alleged Communist activities, said to be responsible for the recent outbreaks. Their action followed that of Jefferson County commissioners, who appropriated $2,500 for the employment of an additional deputy sheriffs to quiet strike troubles.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 12.—Ohio, which once had a membership of 55,000 in the United Mine Workers of America, will soon be back on the union map with a sufficient personnel to warrant a request to coal operators in the state for a conference to discuss means of putting the Ohio coal industry back on its feet, union organizers predicted today.

Before leaving last night for Indianapolis, Percy Tellow, who is in charge of reorganization activities of the United Mine Workers of America in Ohio, declared that approximately 90 per cent of the coal miners of the Hocking and Guernsey districts—two important Ohio coal fields—will be back in the union folds.

"The three years of operations under open shop conditions have proved the need of a stabilizing influence such as the mine union," Tellow said. He asserted that whereas prior to 1928 the Ohio coal fields faced their greatest source of trouble from "cut-throat competition" in West Virginia and Kentucky, today the under-cutting is taking place at home.

"Each of the smaller operators is slashing wages in order to get business until today there is no bottom and operators, miners and communities have suffered alike," he declared.

"The situation today is such that only by united action can the operators and miners save the trade, which has been plunged into its worst depths by lack of a union to enforce a scale that kept all companies on an equal labor cost basis."

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Convinced that mine disorders in Pennsylvania and Ohio may have tragic results unless halted at once, federal mediators today were determined to urge Secretary of Labor William M. Doak to intervene.

Fearing additional outbreaks like that reported near Steubenville when the home of a non-union miner was bombed, apparently by strikers whom he had refused to join, mediators returned to Washington to ask the secretary of labor to call a national parley between miners and operators.

Meanwhile, authorities increased their strength with which to combat possible new outbreaks by summoning additional state troopers to the Pittsburgh district.

Governor Gifford Pinchot, entering the controversy for the first time, sent one of his personal representatives into Washington County to conduct a thorough probe of strike conditions.

The proposed conference which Secretary Doak will be asked to arrange would have to be called "without delay," mediators said.

Although quiet prevailed generally in most of the Pennsylvania district yesterday, new difficulties may be expected at any time, they said.

CAMBRIDGE, O., June 12.—Mass meetings will be held Sunday at Byesville and at Lewis Grove to receive reports on the success of the United Mine Workers of America membership drive to reorganize Ohio, union officials stated today. Committees from all mines in each district will report.

TUCKER FAITHFULL BRANDED AS ENIGMA BY INVESTIGATORS

He thinks another girl may have been on "the party."

While the slain girl's dairy failed to aid the investigators in their search to any great extent because she used merely initials of the many men she knew, Edwards searched the little volume for references to Starr's fiancée.

It was revealed that while she seemed to have large sums of money most of the time, her mother and Elizabeth had seen periods of almost want. Starr was always fashionably dressed. The district attorney would not comment today on the possibility that the cultured young girl had been involved with blackmailers.

Edwards said he would question Elizabeth about clothes worn by Starr and herself and he especially wanted to ask Elizabeth about how she pawned a leopard coat last Wednesday for $20.

The girl's diary revealed that when visiting in England she and her mother and sister lived sometimes at the best hotel, sometimes in drab Chelsea and their finances varied from week to week.

The diary classed Starr as a pronounced neurasthenic. She believed that if she wrote things down when they bothered her they would dwindle to minor proportions. Many men were mentioned in the little book.

Edwards admitted today he did not know the names of the men Starr had seen on the day she disappeared. He said he did know, however, the name of one person who was with her that day and hoped through that person to learn who her companions were.

The district attorney is not satisfied, either, that Francis Peabody Hamlin, grandson of the millionaire, General Francis Peabody, has revealed everything that might aid in solution of the mystery.

Hamlin admitted having been with the girl on May 29 at the party on the Franconia.

PLAN PROGRAM OF UNION SERVICES

"Seek Ye Jehovah," a composition by Mrs. W. J. Cherry, Xenian, will be sung by the combined adult and high school choirs of the First U. P. Church at union services at that church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. S. L. Brill, pastor of the U. P. Church, will deliver the sermon.

As a prelude to the service Miss Mary Keeley, choir director and Miss Marjorie Street, organist, will play two organ duets, "Fantasie" in three movements by Dickinson and "Evening Song" by Schumann. The choir's second number will be "The Lord Bless You" by Peter Lutkin and Miss Street will play as the offertory, "Canto Amoroso" by Sammartini.

SEWING CLUB MEETS

The second meeting of "The Happy Go Lucky Girls" was held in the domestic science room at Central High School Wednesday afternoon. It was decided that each member pay two cents dues at each meeting. Mrs. E. D. Lauman discussed uniformity of clothing. The next meeting will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. at the high school.

FRIEND AND WIFE PLEAD NOT GUILTY

John M. Friend and his wife, Mary, arrested in a spectacular raid conducted by nine county, state and federal officers on their stone bungalow on the Dayton-Xenia Pike Wednesday night, each pleaded not guilty to possessing before U. S. Commissioner Charles W. Ozias in Dayton Thursday.

Friend, who was released under $2,000 bond, and his wife, freed on $1,500 bond, will have a joint hearing July 10.

Authorities confiscated between fifty and seventy-five empty beer kegs in a secret compartment in the cellar and also seized elaborate gambling equipment.

Friend and his wife were the center of a sensational trial at Dayton in May, 1927, that attracted widespread interest. They were convicted of possession and sale of liquor, Friend being sentenced to one year in the Atlanta penitentiary and fined $2,000, while his wife was sentenced to six months in the Preble County jail and was fined $1,000. At that time they lived in Oakwood, suburb of Dayton.

Former Xenian Married Thursday Evening

MISS MARCELLA WILCOX, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Wilcox, Canal Winchester, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Robert Spahr, Steubenville, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin G. Spahr, Hill St., this city, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Bexley Community M. E. Church, Bexley, Columbus. One hundred guests attended the ceremony.

Palms and ferns and baskets of pink roses and white peonies banked the altar where the service was read by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor. A seven-branch candelabrum was placed on each side of the altar.

A program of organ music was presented by Mrs. Mildred Roberts Burch preceding the ceremony and Miss Mary Darien Hamilton, Columbus, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "At Dawning." Miss Dorothea Whitliss, Baltimore, Md., was maid of honor and Mr. Noel

Eric Woodall, Cleveland, was best man. Messrs. Nihil R. Crider and William L. Howell, Columbus, were ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of off-white satin, fashioned with a Chantilly lace yoke, round in front and forming a V in the back. The dress was made with long lines forming a small train in the back. Her veil was of rose point and duchess lace trimmed in seed pearls and orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom and carried a shower bouquet of tiny roses centered with a large rose.

Miss Whitliss was attired in a frock of pink chiffon embroidered on the skirt in pastel flowers. It was fashioned along princess lines with a large blue satin sash. She wore blue moire slippers, pink lace mitts and carried pale pink roses.

A reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. Everett Williams, Columbus, following the ceremony.

MADDOX-HAINES NUPTIALS PERFORMED IN WILMINGTON

Miss Sara E. Haines, daughter of Mrs. Daisy L. Haines, New Burlington, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles R. Maddox, Columbus, in a quiet ceremony performed at the parsonage of the Friends Church, Wilmington, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Rev. O. Herschel Folger read the single ring service in the presence of immediate families of the couple.

Later luncheon was enjoyed at the General Denver Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Maddox left Monday afternoon for a motor trip to New York and points of interest in the East. They will return in two weeks and will spend the summer at the home of Mr. Maddox' father in Columbus.

Mrs. Maddox is a graduate of Wilmington College and is a member of Delta Omega Theta sorority. She has been teaching in East Liberty schools two years. Mr. Maddox is the son of Mr. Harry Maddox, Columbus, and is superintendent of schools in Kirkersville, O., having been a member of the faculty there four years. He received his degree in education at Ohio Wesleyan University and took post graduate work at Columbus.

PIANO AND ORGAN RECITAL PRESENTED HERE.

Piano and organ pupils of Miss Juanita Rankin were presented in an entertaining recital at Trinity M. E. Church Wednesday evening. Each of the numbers was played in a finished manner and a large audience of interested persons attended the recital.

Organ numbers were given by Miss Harriet Reeder, Jamestown; Miss Margaret Hibbert and Charles Adair. Piano pupils appearing on the program were Margaret Ellen Haines, Jamestown; Jack McClellan, Mary Anne Kingsbury, John Wike, Betty Chew, Eldora Baughn, Thelma Fawcett, Helen Reeves, Mildred LeVeck, Nelle McCallum, Charlotte Fudge and Martha Ann Baughn.

Other pupils of Miss Rankin who did not appear in the recital were Lura Toms, Julia Louise Bullock, Nancy McClellan and Charlotte McClellan.

INTERESTING PROGRAM IS PRESENTED BY W. C. T. U.

The Rev. C. A. Arthur, pastor of the M. P. Churches in the Bowersville charge, was speaker at a meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Harry Devore, near Paintersville, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. William Weiss, president, presided and Mrs. Earl Soward led the devotional service.

A paper on "Disarmament" was read by Mrs. Lillian Weiss and readings were given by Mrs. Joseph B. Mason and daughter, Jean. Piano solos were played by Lois Arthur, Thelma Fawcett and Pauline Woods and Mrs. Sarah Thompson sang a solo and also played a piano solo.

INFORMAL BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN THURSDAY

Guests for tables of bridge were entertained by Mrs. Paul Turnbull at her home on S. Detroit St., Thursday afternoon. At the close of the games Mrs. O. J. Lowe was presented first prize, Mrs. G. W. Kuhn, second prize and the consolation prize was awarded Mrs. Harold Fawcett.

A delicious refreshment course was served by Mrs. Turnbull later in the afternoon.

Mrs. D. E. Crow, E. Second St., returned home Thursday from Dayton where she spent a week with her daughter, Mrs. Lena Webb.

Mr. Daniel Nichols has returned to Louisville, Ky., where he is employed after spending several days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Nichols, N. Galloway St.

Miss Kathryn Reynolds, New-castle, Pa., will arrive here Saturday to spend several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Forest G. Hurley, Oaklawn Apts., S. Detroit St.

Mr. C. C. Mauck, Jamestown, underwent a serious operation at the offices of Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown Thursday. His condition is reported to be favorable.

Messrs. Charles Loyd, Dunkirk, Ind., Frank Loyd, Utica, O., and William Loyd, Gadsden, Ala., were guests this week of their sisters, the Messrs. Laura and Sophia Loyd and Mrs. Emily Ginn, Rogers St.

William Wallace Van Eaton, small son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Eaton, N. King St., who underwent an operation at McClellan Hospital recently, has been removed to the home of his parents. He is confined to his bed although he is improving nicely.

Miss Charlotte Lou Baker, Los Angeles, Calif., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Haines, Home Ave.

RECEIVES HONOR DEGREE

MISS MILDRED CARLE

Miss Mildred M. Carle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Carle, Wilmington Pike, graduated from Cedarville College June 5 with the degree of A. B. in education. Miss Carle was honor student receiving the highest number of merit points in the class. She was granted an honor diploma magna cum laude (with great praise).

Miss Carle also received the four year provisional certificate for high school teachers, which permits her to teach English, social science, history, French or Bible and was honored last year by receiving the Cedarville College Crown Pin for excellence in scholarship and character.

During her four years in college she was secretary and treasurer of the Y. W. C. A., a member of the Philosophic Literary Society, the girls' student council and the girls' basketball team, which she managed during the past two seasons and she is qualified to direct physical education or coach girls' teams.

Other members of the class receiving cum laude (with praise) were Carmen Frazier, Helen Powers, James Stormont and Brenton Turner. Juniors who received the crown pin were the Misses Rachel Douthett and Gertrude Martin, this city, and Lenora Skinnell and Martha Waddle.

Pastor Receives Honors After Decade Of Service

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

TEN years of service as pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Market and King Sts., were recognized when the Rev. W. H. Tilford was honored at a reception in the Sunday School room Thursday evening. An informal reception was held from 7:30 to 8 o'clock and in the receiving line with the Rev. Mr. Tilford were Mrs. Tilford and daughters, Jean and Julia.

A program, opening with invocation by the Rev. Carl White, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Yellow Springs, was presented later in the church auditorium. Frank L. Smith, chairman, introduced the numbers, which included music by a vocal trio, male quartet, solos and piano and organ duet. Dr. W. R. McClesney, president of Cedarville College, gave a short address, congratulating the Rev. Mr. Tilford upon his service to the church. Louis Clark spoke as a representative from the choir and presented Mrs. H. C. Armstrong, choir director, with a basket of flowers. D. D. Jones represented the Sunday School in a short talk and Dr. A. C. Messenger extended congratulations from the men of the church.

Mrs. P. D. Espey spoke as a representative from the women of the church, directing her talk to Mrs. Tilford, this being her first appearance at the church after an illness of several months. She presented Mrs. Tilford with a large basket of flowers. An original poem "Our Minister and Wife" was read by Mrs. George Baldwin. R. O. Wead presented the Rev. and Mrs. Tilford with a purse of money in recognition of their service. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Tilford responded, and in her talk Mrs. Tilford reviewed the ten years she has lived in Xenia and told of many amusing incidents which occurred when she first moved here.

Later light refreshments were served by women of the church in the Sunday School room. A large group attended the reception including ministers of other churches of the city and several people from out-of-town.

REV. W. H. TILFORD

FARMER CALLED BY DEATH THURSDAY

Foster Fitzpatrick, 52, farmer, residing a mile east of Jamestown just off the middle Jeffersonville Pike, died at his home Thursday evening at 6 o'clock from a complication of diseases. He had been ill six months and his condition had been serious for a month.

Mr. Fitzpatrick was born two and one-half miles east of Xenia on the New Jasper Pike and spent his early life there. He was a member of the Xenia Masonic Lodge, J. O. U. A. M. and Jamestown Grange. He is survived by his widow, who was before married Miss Florence Bailey, and a daughter, Wanda Lucille, at home. One sister, Miss Merle Fitzpatrick, Columbus, also survives. M. R. Snodgrass, N. Galloway St., this city, is an uncle.

Funeral services will be held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in Jamestown Cemetery. Friends may call at the home any time Saturday afternoon.

DAVID S. BARKER CLAIMED BY DEATH

David S. Barker, 65 farmer, died at his home one mile north of Jamestown Thursday evening at 8:55 o'clock. He had been ill several years suffering from heart trouble and hardening of the arteries and his condition had been serious the past month.

Mr. Barker was born in Falsom, W. Va., and spent his early life there. He moved to near Jamestown from Chillicothe ten years ago. He is survived by his widow, Catherine Barker, and the following children: Fleming, Akron, O.; Dewey, Dayton; Gordon, who is employed as a barber in Xenia; Mrs. Martha Beverlin, Columbus; Mrs. Emma Vance, Herford, Tex.; and Miss Bess Barker, at home, who is an operator for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. in Jamestown. Four brothers, Nelson Barker, Falsom, W. Va.; James Barker, Moundsville, W. Va.; W. J. Barker, Salem, W. Va.; and Izara Barker, Youngstown, O., and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Hayhurst, Princetown, W. Va., also survive. He leaves two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The remains will be taken to Falsom, W. Va., for burial, the funeral party leaving Jamestown Saturday morning. Services will be held in a church at Falsom Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made there.

Clara Belle Harris, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Harris, Jamestown, is confined in City Hospital, Springfield, suffering from a fracture of the left hip.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Dearly beloved, I beseech you as strangers and pilgrims, abstain from fleshly lusts, which war against the soul.—Peter, ii, 11.

NO WAR IN SIGHT

Gen. Eric von Ludendorff, leading German commander during the World war, has predicted that a new war will break out in Europe in July. He fails to mention however, how those poverty stricken countries can get any money to fight with.

The European people are all heartily sick of war. The Germans are dissatisfied with the settlements by which they have to make heavy reparation payments, and they have a skeleton army that could be expanded to large size in a short time. But wars are fought today with an enormous volume of munitions and equipment, which the Germans absolutely lack. Without such equipment, the opposing armies could wipe them out in a very short time. The Germans have suffered too much already to tempt any such inevitable fate.

MAGNETISM OF ADVERTISING

How does it happen that the good advertisers in any community are usually the most successful business people?

Success in selling anything calls for a certain amount of push and aggressiveness. That aggressiveness can be overcome, and it can be exerted in a way that lacks tact. Salesmen who call at the door are not ordinarily well received, because they take too much of people's time. The salesmanship of the newspaper advertisement overcomes that difficulty, since it never forces people to take their time against their will. But it reaches them in moments of leisure when they are in a mood to learn what the world offers them.

While overdoing sales talk offends people, the silent salesman accomplishes least of all. Something more is due from him than just handing the goods over the counter. It is up to him to know something about the goods, and to impart that knowledge. If he fails to show any enthusiasm, his dull and passive attitude chills interest.

The advertised store strikes the happy medium between the silent salesman, and the one that bothers possible customers by excessive persistence. It tells its story to all interested in bargains and low prices, which includes about everyone. It conveys an impression of enterprise, enthusiasm, and thorough information, which are the qualities that attract business.

BANK ROBBERIES

Daylight bank robberies have increased 60 per cent so far this year over the record of 1930. State police forces were recently suggested to the Kansas Bankers' Association, as the best protection against these crooks.

It is intolerable that these desperate characters should be able to go unpunished after these crimes. It would seem as if radio broadcasting could give very valuable help in pursuing these desperadoes. It within a few minutes of any such robbery, full descriptions of the thieves and their automobiles could be broadcast all over a state, and adjoining territory, the chances of catching the bandits would be much improved.

The fact that the banks that lose by such robberies may be insured against such loss, should not lead to any diminution of efforts to catch these thieves. Every undetected robbery leads to many more.

Other Editorial Thoughts

DRY FARMING

There was a drought in Ohio last year, although the rainfall would have been considered abundant for making crops in certain arid regions of the country where a different system of farming is made necessary by the scant normal rainfall.

This year, while there has been sufficient seasonal rain so far this spring and summer for growing crops, the deficiency in the moisture stored in the soil, resulting from last year's drought, has not been made good. This year's crops are living from shower to shower, and have very little reserve moisture deep in the earth to draw upon.

The fact that the spring was dry and rather cool has helped the situation. When it is dry, roots go deep into the earth seeking moisture and roots can grow and do grow when it is too cool to invite much growth above ground. So crops have good root systems and are in condition to utilize moisture from more cubic inches of soil than is usually the case.

But, in the case of all cultivated crops and gardens it is possible to do much to conserve the moisture supply and make it go as far as possible, by practicing here the methods of the dry farmer. If showers come often enough this will not matter, but if showers do not come often enough it will. Probably with the good root systems already established and the use of dry farming methods, crops in this region would do much better than last year in case the drought should be repeated.

The secret of dry farming is conserving moisture and making it possible for plants to utilize it. The whole system includes summer fallowing of part of the land each year, storing up in that way a part of one summer's moisture to use the next, thinner planting so that each plant shall have more soil to draw moisture from, and the maintenance of a dust mulch by frequent cultivation, especially by cultivation as soon as possible after every shower.

It is this part of the system which can be applied here this year with profit to all cultivated farm crops and to all gardens. There are already gardens which show a distinct difference in growth because some have been carefully and continuously cultivated while others have been left until they seemed to need hoeing to get rid of the weeds. No doubt it was to get rid of weeds that cultivation was first begun, but frequent cultivation, even in perfectly clean ground, produces results which are independent of getting rid of weed competition. It is not wholly a question of conserving the moisture either. The loosened soil is undoubtedly more favorable for the growth of the roots and for the various chemical processes which accompany plant growth.—Springfield Sun.

NEW YORK.—The Rialto, one of New York's best known moving picture houses, occupying the site of Hammerstein's old music hall, at 42nd Street and Seventh Avenue, is closing its doors. There aren't enough "first run" pictures of merit, they say, to warrant continued operation of the theatre at present.

As they say, "You can push a Fervent Christian just so far."

LITERATURE IN BULK

Farrar and Rinehart, publishers, are going in for "big packages." They advertise Mary Roberts Rinehart's book, "My Story" as follows: "Four hundred and thirty-two pages—$2.50."

Or, as they gurgled in Aberdeen: "It's a muckle for a nickel."

ABOUT FILLING STATIONS

Paul Henkel who manages the Hotel Bradford voices the belief that in Tiger Town dining has become a duty and not an experience with an occasional thrill.

"When speaking of restaurants," he says, "New Yorkers mournfully refer to the good old days. Prohibition has halted the progress of the epicureans; but why weep about the gastronomic glories of the departed restaurants when there are three newcomers for everyone that has become extinct?"

DISCIPLE OF TIME

One of the most fascinating shops in New York is located on West Street, near the Cortlandt Street ferry. It's little more than a hole in the wall, operated by a man named Fred Jensen, to whom a watch or a clock is something almost sacred.

For three generations watches and clocks have been a passion with this branch of the Jensen family. When Fred was a stripling he learned the trade from his father, who had a shop in Denmark. Thirty-eight years ago he established his own place on West Street and his son, now forty, has been associated with him since he was able to wind a watch.

The first watches, he says, were made 800 years ago. His father, who was born in 1832 remembered when a man would enter the shop, pay a deposit on a watch and receive a promise of delivery in three years.

"All the problems that have been worked out in accounting machines, in typewriters and the gears of an automobile," he says, "can be traced back to the watch. Once a man came in here with a cigar-box full of watches that were torn up, as if somebody had been at them with a hammer. He said he was an inventor and had been working on a typewriter. He had been studying watches to get his mechanical principles right. Interesting, wasn't it?"

BRANCHING OUT

Speaking of old shops and things: One of the city's most decorous book concerns has installed candy as a side line.

"We find," they say, "that good candy and good books are inseparable; so having the books, we went about getting the candy."

If drug stores sell electric stoves and hooch, and cigar stores sell razor blades, why shouldn't book shops sell candy?

ILLUSTRIOUS LINES

"Etiquette is a lot of hokum when it isn't a bunch of bromides. It's a racket, honey. It's a racket."—"Fenny" Brice.

THE STATISTICIAN AGAIN

I received a letter the other day in which some gentleman of whom I'd never heard addressing me by my Christian name, went on to point out that "Manhattan's 20,353 elevators handle 12,150,000 passengers every day."

I immediately wired him, collect, inquiring: "What of it?"

His reply will be duly recorded, when received.

ANOTHER FRUSTRATED JAIL DELIVERY

INTELLIGENT DIRECTION ACCOUNTED FOR SUCCESS OF ARMY AIR DISPLAY

WASHINGTON.—Army aviation headquarters realizes now that it erred in making its publicity, preceding the recent air maneuvers, quite as blood-curdling as it did.

Carried away by professional enthusiasm, officers of the flying corps admit their failure to take into consideration the likelihood that many groundlings would sense considerable danger in the affair, not only to the aviators, but to themselves, too, from the zooming and zipping of hundreds of planes all at once, right overhead.

Reckoning that the public would welcome the event as the greatest show of its kind in history, and anxious to make the maximum impression with it, war department press agents drew on their descriptive powers to the limit. Presently, to their astonishment, they found themselves with a rapidly-developing sentiment of opposition on their hands. It never wore off while the maneuvers lasted.

There was not a fatality from start to finish, either—or even a serious accident. From a pacifist's standpoint, maybe it was very painful, in its militaristic aspect, but technically it was a wonderful performance—so much of a surprise to veteran flyers as to ordinary folk.

So large a number of planes—at the outset, 659—never was assembled under a single command before.

And not a man killed!

Of the three who suffered injuries, none was badly hurt. Moreover, out of this trio, only two met their mishaps while the maneuvers were going on, the third, a national guardman, having encountered his accident in landing, after being dismissed, while on his way home.

Experts give the chief credit for the maneuvers' success, with no record whatever of lost lives or broken bones, to strict, highly intelligent flight supervision.

The thoroughness of United States army training is mentioned as an additional important reason for the efficiency of American aviators in the intricacies of formation operations—an efficiency born of fully twice as much time spent in the air as is required of any other nation's military flying men.

Finally, sound army planes get a tribute.

Of the 659 with which the maneuvers started, 641 were still in the finish. Only two of the total number were put permanently out of commission; five required major repairs; eleven, for various causes, were returned to their home stations, but were able to leave under their own power.

"Ours are not as fast as some of Europe's," as one pilot put it, "but they stand wear and tear."

The maneuvers represented 315,000 aircraft hours.

Seven hundred and twenty pilots and 644 enlisted men took part in them, plus enough miscellaneous civilians to bring the total up to about 1,400.

And but three casualties—not bad ones.

Can commercial aviation equal it?

"No, probably not," an expert army authority told me, "but neither can any other country's military aviation service. At France's last important maneuvers 345 planes were assembled, as against our 659, and eight Frenchmen were killed, not to mention many more or less serious additional casualties."

"For that matter," continued this authority, "even the United States army air corps could hardly employ so many planes and so many men for so many hours without more crashes minus the constant supervision which characterized our latest performance."

"As for commercial flights, they frequently are over strange routes, with descents on strange landing fields."

"And mail pilots are bound by schedules; hence must risk bad weather."

"Commercial planes, too, must be built to carry pay loads, which the army's need not allow for. Thus the latter can be, and are, heavier, and weight and strength go together."

"Still," said the aviator, "army air maneuvers mean formation flying, which is extra hazardous.

"And out of 1,400 we didn't kill a man."

"How does auto racing compare with it?"

MENU HINT

Supper Salad
Creamed or Scalloped Potatoes
Buttered Beets
Rhubarb Nut Pie
Tea or Coffee

The supper salad is a painless method of getting your day's ration of liver, in case you are suffering from anemia and the doctor has prescribed it for you.

Today's Recipes

Supper Salad.—One cup cooked chopped liver, one cup cottage cheese, one small can pimientos, lettuce, three-fourths cup mayonnaise, one teaspoon salt, dash of celery salt, onion salt and cayenne, paprika. Put liver through the food chopper, add cottage cheese and mix well with fork. Add seasonings and two tablespoons of mayonnaise to bind. Arrange the lettuce on plates, placing half a pimiento on each bed of lettuce. Put some of salad mixture on top of the pimiento. Garnish with mayonnaise. Serves six.

Rhubarb Nut Pie.—Two cups rhubarb cut small, two eggs, pinch of salt, one cup sugar, one-half cup nut meats (pecans or English walnuts), two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour. Cream together sugar, butter, flour and egg yolks, then stir in rhubarb and nut meats; bake in slow oven. When done frost with the stiffly beaten egg whites which have been sweetened and flavored, return to oven, brown slightly.

SUGGESTIONS

"Pint Size" Rock Gardens
If you have a plot of ground the size of a one-car garage you can have a rock garden nowadays that is just as lovely as the one costing thousands of dollars. Trilliums, wild orchids, jack-in-the-pulpits, galax, hepatica, bloodroot, wood anemone and blue and yellow primroses are all good rock garden plants, says Ralph Bailey, writing in a current magazine.

HEAT AND COLD ON THE MOON

By ARTHUR DEV. CARPENTER

A lunar day is nearly 14 times as long as an earth day, and there being no clouds there to shut off some of the sun's rays, the moon's rocks become blistering hot. At the lunar equator at noon the temperature rises to 248 degrees Fahrenheit. But during the equally long night there being no atmosphere to retain heat, the temperature drops to 112 degrees below zero. Thus the lunar temperature has a range of 136 degrees. Before modern instruments were invented for measuring temperatures on other worlds there was no way of knowing the moon's temperatures, but now they are easily determined. Temperatures of distant stars are now measured.

Headache Commonest Human Ill

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Headache is one of the commonest of human complaints. This is not surprising considering all the things there are in the head to go wrong—complicated structures like the eye and the ear, ramifying surfaces to be infected like the nose and its sinuses, as well as nerves, muscles, tendons and bones. Most important of all the mechanical factors is the rigid immovable bony skull, containing a compressible organ like the brain and its surrounding fluid. If the fluid increases, or the brain begins to swell, there is no place for the swelling to expand—the bones of the skull have no give. The resulting tension inside the skull is bound to cause headache.

The treatment of headache, because of these complexities, is not simple. And it is by no means always successful. The consumption of headache remedies is second only in volume to the consumption of cathartics. They usually give only temporary relief and thus have to be repeated and often lead to a dangerous drug habit. This is especially true of headache powders which contain a drug called acetanilid, which when taken over long periods of time causes changes in the blood, the patient's lips and skin turning bluish, with other general bodily changes.

The object of every physician's investigation of a headache is to find the cause. A gentleman of my acquaintance who still clings to the doctrine of homeopathy occasionally argues with me on the subject and almost inevitably he brings up a headache remedy by which he lays great store. When in proclaiming the virtues of his homeopathic medicine he asks me what my treatment for headache is, I always answer, "It depends on the cause." This makes my homeopathic friend very angry but it must be evident that the treatment of a headache that comes from eyes that need glasses is very different from the treatment of a headache which comes from infected sinuses of the nose.

Besides mechanical or organic causes of headache there are a large number of chronic headaches for which we can find no actual bodily disease as a cause. These functional headaches may be the common sick headache (migraine) or other even more subtle things of the personality, such as the escape headache, the revenge headache, the conscientious headache, etc.

During the week we will discuss some of the common forms of headache.

Course of True Love Hits Snag

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"DEAR MISS LEE: I'm in distress. I've been going with a girl for four and a half years. This is our first year in college. She attends a college out of the state and I attend one at home.

"I love her dearly and would sacrifice anything for her. She says that she loves me, but to me it seems she doesn't care for me.

"I visited her one week-end and found that she was going with a wild group of girls. She dared me to buy her a package of cigarettes, and, from what she said and the way she acted, I came to the conclusion that she smokes. However, I am not sure.

"In my estimation, a girl that smokes is liable to do things not becoming to a girl, and I told her so. I have never smoked and do not want the girl I go with to smoke.

"I was a little peeved to think that she smoked and she became angry at me because I thought she did smoke, and she told me that she never wanted to see me again if that was all I thought of her.

"Did I draw my conclusions too soon? I am not positive that she smokes, but I thought that actions spoke louder than words. She will not have anything to do with me. She never writes. What can I do? I love her more than anyone else. It's torture to go with any other girl. She's always in my mind. Can't you give me any advice? I have asked advice from others but none will work, so I have come to you. Yours truly, WORRIED."

You probably did draw your conclusions hastily. Worried! It was quite probable that the girl friend was bent on shocking you, and succeeded all too well. Then because she thought so much of you and you seemed so willing to believe the worst of her, she was hurt so much she hasn't been able to forgive you as yet.

It's a sad thing, but can't always or don't, at any rate, bridge our tongues, but go smashing lovely friendships by harsh words. We all do it and then suffer for it, and the lesson is so hard to learn, isn't it? Son?

Have you done to gain her? Apologized as handsomely as you could? I suppose so. Why not just for send her a box of cigarettes and a bunch of roses and tell her you would rather the sweetest girl in the world than the one you are now with?

Always Hopeful: Thank you so much, dear, for your nice letter and all.

It is perfectly natural that you should have these feelings of longing for a nice boy friend. All normal girls have them, whether they acknowledge it or not.

It is queer that no other boy has asked you for a date since you and your boy friend broke up. I can't quite account for it. All the boys you meet can't keep from asking you out of loyalty to your old friend. And, anyway, your letter does not indicate that either of you treated the other badly.

I think this period is probably one of those unaccountable pauses that comes in the life of every person, boy or girl, man or woman, when they don't seem to attract the opposite sex. It will pass and you will have friends again, I am sure. The trick is to have faith in yourself and do just as you are doing: Have the best possible time with girls. I feel very much flattered about your prophecy.

Proposes Subtle Use of Perfume

By GLADYS GLAD

A charming young French lass, who seems to have the Joyce knack of attracting the male of the species, confided to me the other day that she makes it a practice always to spray her sliken hose and the hems of her frocks with her favorite perfume before stepping out. Thus, she insists, whenever she moves about or dances her skirt releases a delicate, elusive fragrance that emanates directly from her, that seems to be a definite part of herself.

This is indeed a unique way of applying perfume. And in my opinion it's as clever as it is unique. But the French women always have been far more skilled in the use of perfumes than American women. And their success in this function is due, to a great extent, to the fact that they perfume themselves "from the inside out."

A fine perfume atomizer is an almost indispensable item of the chic Parisienne's toilette equipment. After her bath, she sprays her entire body lightly with her chosen scent. The warmth of her flesh hastens the evaporation of the alcohol, and brings out the faint, delicate sweetness of the perfumed oils. Next, she sprays the perfume over her filmy undies, over her sheer stockings, and around the hem of the gown she contemplates wearing, and then completes her dressing. She uses her atomizer skillfully so that her clothing retains only a subtle, discreet fragrance, and does not become stained by the perfume.

When she is fully gowned, the clever French m'am'selle begins and almost inevitably he brings up a headache remedy by which he lays great store. When in proclaiming the virtues of his homeopathic medicine he asks me what my treatment for headache is, I always answer, "It depends on the cause." This makes my homeopathic friend very angry but it must be evident that the treatment of a headache that comes from eyes that need glasses is very different from the treatment of a headache which comes from infected sinuses of the nose.

NINE ST. BRIGID HIGH SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS THURSDAY

"Education founded upon Catholic principles stands in good stead in whatever line of life the students pursue after leaving school," declared the Rev. John Stedman, pastor of Holy Family Church, Frenchtown, O., at graduation exercises of St. Brigid High School in St. Brigid Church Thursday evening.

The Catholic education adds to worldly ideals and improves upon them," Father Stedman said and he stressed the point that health of the student is necessary by strength of body, strength of heart and strength of soul.

The nine graduates and their attendants, boys and girls of the first grade, marched into the church singing "Onward and Upward." The boys wore white trousers and blue coats and the girls wore white silk sports frocks. The smaller girl attendants were dressed in pastel shades and the small boys were dressed in white linen suits.

Solemn benediction was celebrated with The Rev. L. Gerlach, Yellow Springs, celebrant; the Rev. A. Bernard, Oxford, O., deacon and the Rev. Lawrence Mollman, Jamestown, sub-deacon. The Rev. Edward Quadde, Liberty, Ind., who served as assistant to the Rev. Father Hector here thirty years ago, was present in the sanctuary. Following the Rev. Father Stedman's address diplomas were presented to the graduates by the Rev. Lawrence Wessel.

The altar was attractively decorated with high candles and baskets of pink pinks and roses. Miss Dorothy Clemmer was organist for the service.

ANNUAL CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MEETING REVEALS PROGRESS

Evidence that the Christian Science movement continues to grow was indicated in reports at the annual meeting at the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, at Boston this week.

Approximately 6,000 members from many nations attended the meeting. Delegates heard that steps for erection of the new $3,000,000 publishing house are being taken as rapidly as possible and that all indebtedness on the six acre tract surrounding the church, on which the building will be erected, has been wiped out.

A total of seventy-nine new branch church organizations were formed in the last year. The address of the retiring president, Duncan Sinclair, was a feature of the opening session and reports of various officers were heard.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. A. G. H. Baker, Miss Arnold and Miss Marguerite Ralls, Xenia.

Circle 2 Hours—Land Safely

Pilot Charles Weiblen is shown above with the three women passengers whom he brought safely to earth after circling for nearly two hours over Bettis airport, at Pittsburgh, with a disabled landing gear. The plane, shown partially wrecked in lower photo, was bound from Pittsburgh to Buffalo. The accident to the landing gear occurred just as the ship took off. A plane dashing in pursuit warned the pilot of his danger, and while 500 anxious persons watched, the endangered plane began its long battle to land safely. Although the plane was damaged, no injuries were suffered.

LA FRANCE HOSIERY WEEK . . . Saturday, June 13th through Saturday, June 20th

Celebrate
With Us!

Liberal
Discounts For You!

On The Air W. G. N.!

Quin Ryan, Mlle. La France and the WGN Symphony Orchestra come to you on two evenings over Station WGN, Chicago ....

Friday evening, June 12 and Tuesday evening, June 16—at 9:45 our time. Set your radio dials for the La France hour.

On Friday evening, Quin Ryan tells you of La France Week in the Middle West, and Mlle. La France takes you to Parisian couture salons and describes the newer summer hosiery shades and costumes with which they are effectively worn. Tuesday, the 16th, they bring another interesting story.

Throughout the Central States

Merchants throughout Central States are featuring La France Week and the interesting advantages it brings you—savings on this distinctive silk hose—La France. All La France hosiery is full-fashioned.... there is a "weight" for every want....and La France is unusually beautiful. As Mlle. La France says in the broadcasts, "La France shades are perfect!" They are—the soft, smart shades harmonize beautifully with dashing 1931 costume colors. In Our Store!

In Our STORE...!

"Hello, Folks!"
—The Tuxedo Man

"It certainly pays to have good cows, and it certainly pays to feed them well. More and more farmers each year are realizing the great economy of feeding Tuxedo Dairy. They find it increases their profit two or three times.

"One man tells me that Tuxedo Dairy produced noticeable results the second day after starting. The milk flow increased, and very soon the general condition of the cow was improved. That's just one case in hundreds that I know of.

"Tuxedo Dairy does make more milk. Will it help you? Certainly! It is milled for your cows, to be fed with the roughages produced on your farm. It's a scientific blend of selected grains, mineral salts, and PURE CANE MOLASSES. The price is right, too. Don't wait—start getting more milk!"

Xenia Farmers' Exchange, Xenia, Ohio.
W. O. Beam and Son, Port William, O.
Roxanna Grain Co., Roxanna, Ohio.
O. B. Armstrong, Osborn, Ohio.

TELLING the WORLD'S NEWS with PICTURES

THREE WHO MAKE BID FOR WORLD BEAUTY CROWN

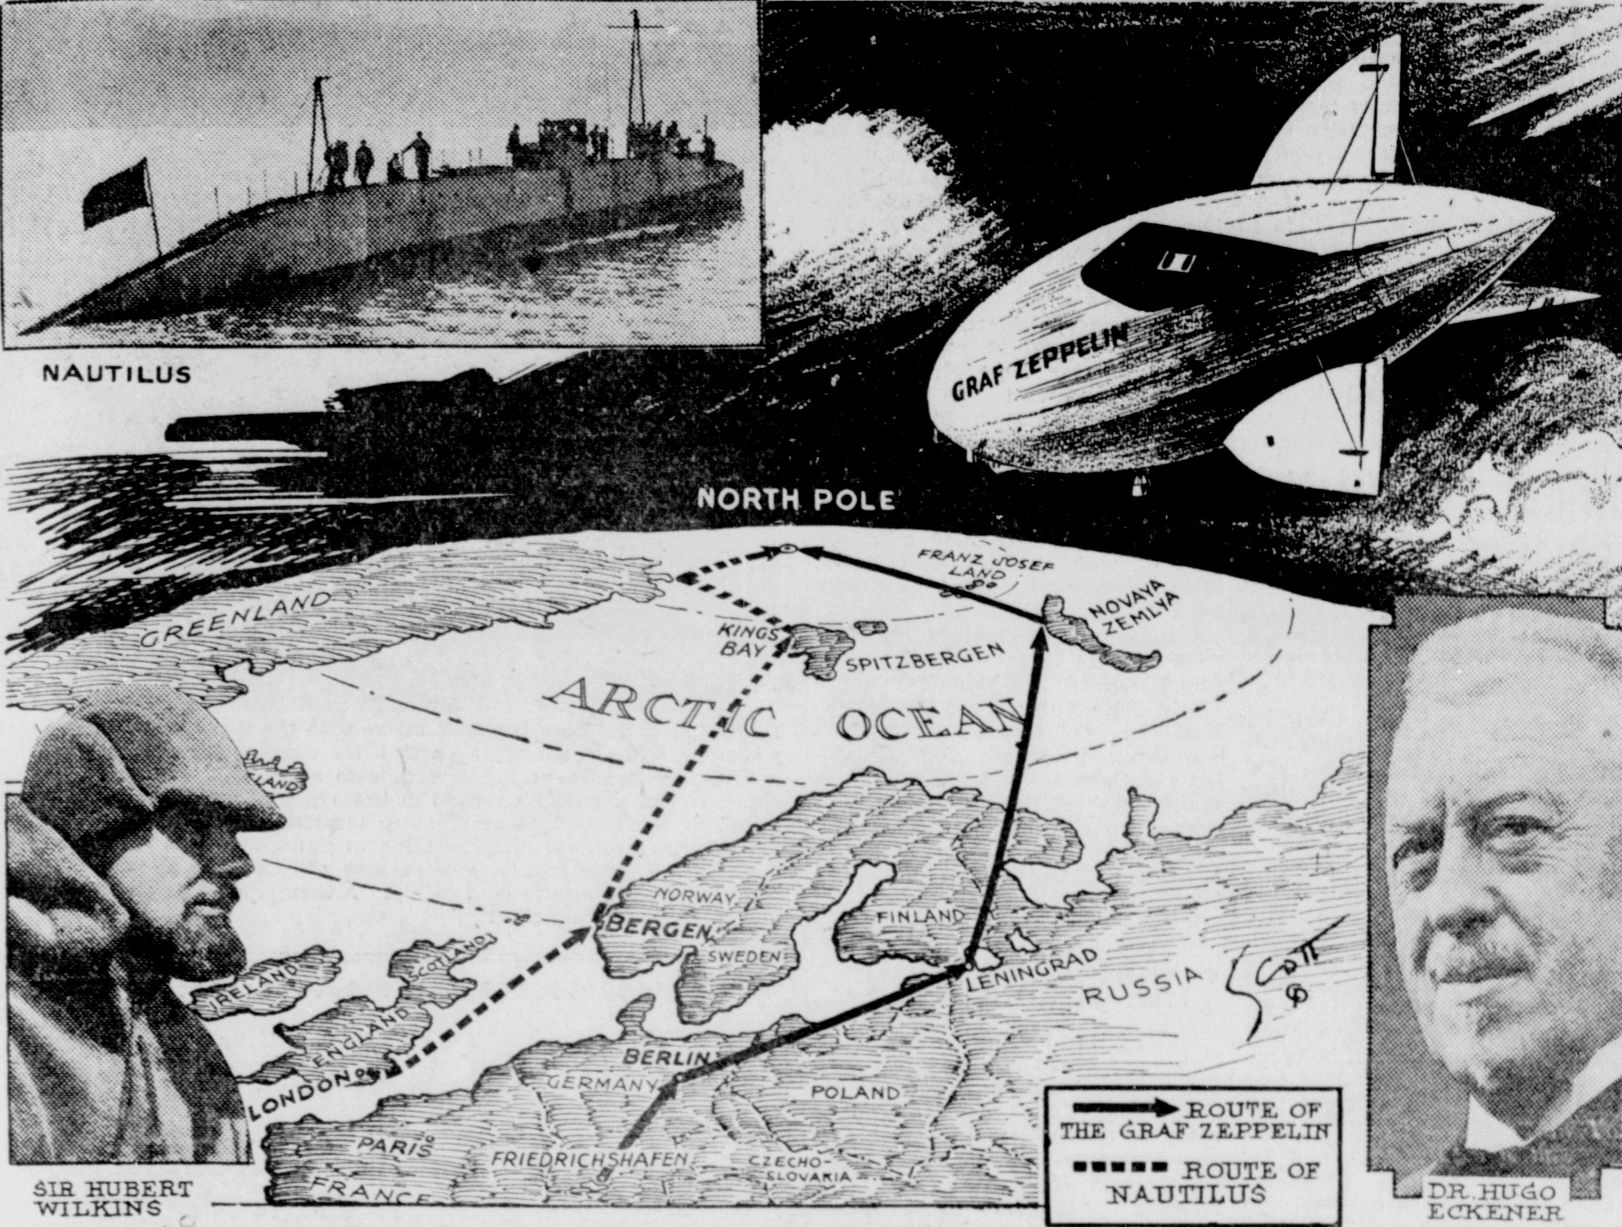

These beauties, competing in the International Pageant of Pulchritude, in Galveston, Tex., are, left to right, "Miss St. Louis," Miss Gene Rafal; "Miss New Orleans," Dorothy Lambour, and "Miss Scranton," Miss Elinor Klein. Miss Rafal is 19 and the other two are 17.

Man the Lips!

Although "Man the lifeboats!" is more of a nautical expression than "Man the lips!" the latter was in a class by itself in popularity when the 1931 class of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis, was graduated. Ensign J. C. Parham, of Washington, D. C., just commissioned, issued his first order just as this picture was taken. Dorothy White, his sweetheart, was not slow in obeying.

ALL READY FOR THE MOST DRAMATIC RENDEZVOUS IN HISTORY

Final arrangements are being made for the polar rendezvous of the submarine Nautilus and the Graf Zeppelin, sometime this summer. Photos above show the Nautilus and the Graf, top; below, Sir Hubert Wilkins, left, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, right. Map, center, indicates the routes both craft will follow to the pole, where they hope to meet for most dramatic rendezvous in history.

Cavalry Thunders for War Secretary

There is always something that stirs the blood in the movement of cavalry, something of the romance and glamor reminiscent of the days when "knighthood was in flower." But there is something pathetic as well as magnificent in the picture above. It shows troops of the First Cavalry in brave array on the plain in front of Fort Bliss, Texas, when they were inspected by Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley. There is some talk of throwing cavalry into the discard as an obsolete weapon of warfare and of closing up some of the picturesque old forts that served their purpose when our empire builders looked to them as their only sanctuary in the days when the "first American" practiced the outdoor sport of scalp-lifting. Photo at left shows Hurley with officers of Fort Bliss reviewing the parade and top panel presents the cavalry in a gallant effort to justify its existence.

Air Scientists and Their Discoverer

PRESIDENT HOOVER TO ADDRESS G. O. P. EDITORS

President Hoover addresses 5,000 persons attending a banquet given by the Indiana Republican Editorial association, in Manufacturers' hall, above, at the Indiana State fair grounds, Indianapolis, on June 15. He is expected to make his first important utterance of the 1932 campaign then.

Cuban President?

Rumors in Mexico City have it that Manuel Marquez Sterling (above), former Ambassador to Mexico, will become Provisional President of Cuba in place of President Gerardo Machado under a compromise plan agreed upon by the present chief executive and leaders of the opposition. Senor Sterling sailed recently from Mexico to Cuba to take part in negotiations.

Too Good a Nurse?

Charging that Emily Ranos, pretty nurse of Chicago (above), forced her out of her own home and supplanted her in the affections of Dr. Henry J. Millstone, her husband, Mrs. Millstone had both hubby and Emily arrested and tossed in jail. Not quite satisfied, Mrs. Millstone also accused the attractive nurse of stealing two rings valued at $2,000.

Probe His Death

The mysterious manner in which David R. Murdock (above), prominent Boston banker and political leader, met his death in New York is being probed by police. When Murdock was found dead in his hotel room, while on a business trip, his right eye was discolored and his face bruised. Authorities are investigating the possibility of a fall causing his death.

May Get Power Post Harding Memorial Ready for Ceremony

Col. Frederick Stuart Greene, above, state superintendent of public works, in New York, may be appointed to the newly created post of state power authority. Imposingly beautiful and ready for formal ceremonies to mark its dedication, the memorial to the late President Warren G. Harding, at Marion, Ohio, will draw a group of distinguished statesmen, including President Hoover, to the former Chief Executive's home town June 19. An aerial view of the memorial is shown above in center, flanked by President and Mrs. Harding at lower left and right, and President Hoover at upper left and former President Coolidge at upper right. President Hoover will officiate at the long awaited dedication, while his predecessor in the White House is expected to make an address at the monument.

Magazine Clue Jails Suspect Wed After Surprise Divorce

Chance reading of a detective story magazine by San Francisco police officers landed George W. E. Perry, 40, alias Frank J. Moran, in jail as a suspect in the murder of Mrs. Dora B. Hackett at Lac Du Flambeau, Wis., last year. Perry is shown above pointing to a scar near right eye as Inspector James Johnson questions him. The scar helped police to identify Perry following publication of his picture and a synopsis of the Wisconsin crime in the magazine. Granted a final decree of divorce from her husband, James A. Stillman, New York banker, Mrs. Anne U. Stillman immediately married 33-year-old Fowler McCormick, son of Harold F. McCormick and grandson of John D. Rockefeller. Mrs. Stillman is shown above with McCormick in an unusually intimate picture.

Her Pictures Don't Flicker

Mrs. Bessie Lasky (above), wife of Jesse Lasky, American film magnate, is holding an exhibition of her paintings in the Cooling Galleries in London. Nine years ago, Mrs. Lasky had never held a paint brush in her hand. She is entirely a self-taught artist, too. But where her husband's pictures hold their charm with movement and sound, her's are quite still and very silent.

Royal Sweethearts

Princess Ileana of Rumania and her fiance, Archduke Anton of Hapsburg, are completing plans for their wedding. It is reported they will spend their honeymoon in England, where the Princess will renew many of her schoolgirl acquaintances. This is the latest picture of the royal couple.

VACATIONS

And he saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest awhile.—Mark 6:31.

REST and change are indispensable. If one can, he should always take a vacation at some time in the year. Summer is the natural time for it. Then, if possible, everyone should store up reserves of physical strength for the strenuous working days. But the mind and spirit need nurture and stimulus as much as the body. Vacation ought to mean a time of refreshing for the soul. The open Church on summer Sundays calls to men and women to enter and worship. It will always be true that "they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

Those Who Sleep

A minister once told his congregation that the Church had comfortable pews, and that if they preferred to sleep Sunday morning, he would rather they slept in the Church than at home. There was a chance, he said, that they might wake up and hear something to interest them.

For Parents

The things children learn stay with them, in some fashion, for life. Sunday School will help your children avoid a limited vision by showing them the infinite possibilities of spiritual knowledge.

The Theater

After six months away from the studios, Louise Dresser is planning a reappearance in "Poker Alice," a story of the gold mining days in California.

"Poker Alice" is owned by Miss Dresser and her husband, Jack Gardner. It was collaborated on by Authors Philip Klein and Edward T. Lowe and is now being discussed by Fox with an end to producing and releasing the film. A definite decision will be reached upon Winfield Sheehan's return from New York.

Besides Fox, Paramount is also interested in having the star make the picture on its lot. Like "Calamity Jane," the character Miss Dresser portrayed recently in a Richard Arlen picture, "Poker Alice" was a historical figure in early days and, in fact, died but recently. But where the former was hard as flint, "Poker Alice" is a picture pertaining to its own craft and to the general points of interest in the film colony.

Such is the story that radio plans to release as "The Miracle City" on its new program. Originally it was to be known as "Hollywood Passional" but objections overruled the title.

Howard Estabrook has written the original story and Mary Astor is to be the star. Roscoe Ates is the only other member of the cast chosen so far. No doubt before the picture is finished it will contain a long list of celebrities as this type of film usually ends up with most of the notables appearing at some restaurant or function.

Maybe Jeanette MacDonald and Robert Richie were kidding when they announced June 9 as their wedding date. Richie has gone east and the nuptials are now in the indefinite class.

A new 5 and 10 cent store is to be opened in the new Kingsbury building by the Woolworth Co. of New York.

Two Greene County postmasters, S. C. Wright, Cedarville, and W. O. Custis, Jamestown, have received $100 salary increases.

Carrie Nation, who gained notoriety by her use of the hatchet in the cause of prohibition died in a sanatorium at Leavenworth, Kan.

Lewis Greig, member of the Gazette carrier force for eight years, has sold his route to George Horen. The route is on S. Detroit St.

had a heart of gold, which will allow the star an entirely different characterization.

Miss Dresser's long absence has been spent at home caring for her mother, who dislocated her hip and suffered other injuries when she fell headlong down a flight of stairs. Now she is greatly improved and has been moved from the Beverly Hills home to a sanatorium. Being situated in a higher altitude physicians believe she will be fully recovered within six weeks.

With hardly any time off between pictures, William Bakewell jumps from one cast to another. His latest assignment is to furnish the romance opposite Madge Evans in Bayard Veillier's mystery story, "Guilty Hands."

Lionel Barrymore performs the chief character role, and Polly Moran will furnish the comedy. Francis is another member of the cast, having been borrowed from Paramount. W. S. Van Dyke will direct.

THIRTY-ONE JOIN POPULATION RANKS IN MAY IS REPORT

Thirty-one births were recorded in Greene County in May, seventeen in Xenia, according to a report Thursday by Mrs. Pearl Wittenmyer, county health nurse. A list of births in May follows:

Shirley Mae Bath, Xenia; John David Hurley, Xenia; Marvin Thomas Toner, Xenia; Robert Leon Chne, Xenia; Christopher Porter Bridgman, Xenia; Anne Wingfield, Xenia; Evelyn Jean Wuest, Xenia; Harriett Marie Ennis, Xenia; Neva Joan Deane, Xenia; Nancy Jean Fess, Xenia.

Leonard Richard Korn, Xenia; Mary Jane McCormick, Xenia; Donald Everett Powell, Xenia; Dorothy Evelyn Powell, Xenia; Dorothy Lucille Devilbliss, Xenia; Infant Katon, Xenia; Rose Ella Carter, Xenia; Richard Warren Sanders, Jamestown; Owen Jr. Clemans, Jamestown; Clarence Dinneen, Jamestown.

Robert Lawrence Hendrickson, Jamestown; Oma Louise Patterson, Jamestown; Max Eugene Davis, Bowersville; Infant Blankenship, S. Solon; Marjorie Ellen Reed, Cedarville; Rebecca Wilson Cresswell, Cedarville; Elizabeth Pratt, Yellow Springs; Alvin Leon Mussetter, Yellow Springs; Theodore Elliott Peckham, Yellow Springs; Patricia DeVoe, Yellow Springs; Velma Marie Gilliam, Bellbrook.

The pergola must be situated so as to fit in with the general design of the garden. It should not stand out as a separate feature, unattached to the rest of the garden. The end of a flower garden, where it will separate the flower garden from the vegetable garden, is often a good place for a pergola. To cover a walk down the main axis of a garden or to accentuate a cross axis at the middle, a pergola is desirable.

The pergola should not be so large or elaborate as to overbalance the other features of the garden and spoil the general effect. There should be unity in the whole scheme of the garden. And anything that detracts from this unity is undesirable.

White paint is usually advisable for wooden pergolas. This not only preserves the wood, but white furnishes an attractive background for green foliage. Sometimes up-rights are of masonry, to conform to buildings. If so, the wooden cross-beams are often stained or varnished.

Climbing roses go naturally with pergolas. They get plenty of sunlight and air. It is a good idea with vigorous growers, to plant a bush at each upright so that the roses will cover the top.

Many other kinds of climbers are attractive. Grapevines are pleasing and give not only shade, but a welcome harvest of fruit in the fall. Kudzu bean, wisteria, trumpet creeper, akabia, and climbing honeysuckle also are effective.

GROCERY TARGET OF BURGLARS AGAIN

For the second time within the last two weeks thieves—believed by county authorities to be the same who burglarized the grocery last May 27—broke into the general store operated by C. O. Miller at Trebein late Thursday night, but this time the loot was negligible.

As on the preceding visit, the burglars broke the glass in a window to gain entrance, but presumably were frightened away by an autoist who stopped near the store to repair a tire between 11:30 and 12 o'clock.

The cash register was not rifled and seven cartons of cigarettes in plain view on a chair were ignored. The intruders helped themselves to ice cream and pop and may have taken a few cigars and small articles of merchandise.

Thieves two weeks ago took change from the cash register and a variety of merchandise. Walton Spahr, chief deputy sheriff, investigated the latest burglary.

Belmont Stake Event To Be Broadcast Saturday

BY MILDRED MASON

CLEM McCARTHY, sports announcer, will be at the microphone Saturday at Belmont Park when Mrs. Payne Whitney's "Twenty Grand" winner of the Kentucky Derby this year, defends its claim to the three-year-old championship against the challenge of George D. Widener's "Jamestown" in the severe one-and-a-half mile Belmont stake.

Although there will be keen competition between these two horses one of the other horses entered in the Belmont stake may flash past the wire first. The program will be broadcast over an NBC network over WLW, Cincinnati, from 3 to 4 p. m.

To Announce Award

Dr. Francis D. Farrell, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College will announce the winner of the Capper award for distinguished service to American agriculture during the National Farm and Home Hour over an NBC network Saturday. The program will be heard over WLW, Cincinnati, from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock. The award was established by Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas.

Fritzi Scheff on Air

Fritzi Scheff, light-opera star, who first rose to fame on the melody, "Kiss Me Again" in "Mlle. Modiste" will be presented in a program over an NBC network through WSAI, Cincinnati, Sunday evening from 6 to 6:30 o'clock. She will sing several numbers and will also speak briefly, telling of her childhood in Vienna where her mother sang in the Vienna Opera.

Cobb is Guest Speaker

Irvin S. Cobb, author and humorist, will be heard as guest artist on the Enna Jettick program over an NBC network through WLW, Cincinnati, Sunday from 7 to 7:15 p. m. The "Sage of Paducah" will talk on "Why We Love the Old Songs Best" and old songs including "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and others will be sung by a quartet.

Connie Mack, Jr., on Air

Connie Mack, Jr., son of the famous manager of the world's champion Athletics, will talk about "My Dad" when he appears as guest of the Bayuk Stag Party Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock over an NBC network through WLW, Cincinnati. The talk will be an especially timely one as Father's Day will be observed Sunday, June 21. Cornelius, Jr., is in his teens and is a student at Germantown Academy, near Philadelphia.

Opens Cincinnati Engagement

Eddie Neilbaur and his Harmony Kings who have won national popularity as the result of their musical successes in the smart supper clubs of New York and Chicago will be heard over WLW, Cincinnati, from June 14 to 19 during their engagement at the Netherlands Plaza Hotel.

Before Her Baby Came

"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I came to womanhood. I was so nervous that I couldn't rest at night. After I took your Compound I felt much better. Then before my baby was born I took the Compound again. I felt strong all through the period. I was never in bed a day. I could rest good at night too."—Mrs. H. L. Buell, Marietta, Ohio.

THINK SISTER HOLDS MURDER CLUE

TUCKER FAITHFULL BRANDED AS ENIGMA BY INVESTIGATORS

Proves Mystery In Probe Of Murder Of Beauty

NEW YORK, June 12.—Elizabeth Tucker Faithfull, chic 19-year-old sister of the slain New York beauty, Starr Faithfull, today was branded as the enigma in the solution of the mysterious murder of Starr.

"If Elizabeth would talk—" said District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards of Nassau County as he prepared to go before a grand jury today in Mineola with the case. He intimated that the girl knew more about the murder of her sister than she had revealed.

Elizabeth's departure from New York at the same time the girl disappeared from her home here last Friday was one point on which Edwards wished to question Elizabeth when she appeared today with her mother and her step-father, Stanley E. Faithfull, before the grand jury.

Part of the time between Friday, when Starr vanished, and Monday, when her body was found on a nearby beach, Elizabeth said she was in Boston. Faithfull said she was in New York.

"Elizabeth has been very mysterious about where she spent the week end," Edwards said. "She may have been with her sister. Remember, there were two men."

The two men referred to by the district attorney were the pair the elevator operator said he saw with the slain girl either Thursday or Friday of last week. Edwards was believed to have halted cremation of the girl's body last night so that the elevator operator could look at the body today.

Elizabeth had informed the authorities that Starr went out last Thursday with two men she met on the liner Franconia. Starr, it was said, had told Elizabeth she was going out with the same men the next day, which was Friday, the day she disappeared.

Edwards does not believe that Starr was alone with the two men.

WOMAN ADMITS BEING MULCTED OUT OF $22,000

Fake Realty Deal Used; Identifies Two Con Men

CLEVELAND, June 12.—Mrs. Sarah Silberberg, wife of a reputedly wealthy East Side wholesale grocer here today reported to police she had been swindled out of $22,000 in a fake real estate deal engineered by two alleged confidence men.

The woman identified the pair whom she said had duped her, from Bertillon records at police headquarters. Search was started immediately for the men.

According to Mrs. Silberberg's story to detectives, she gave the men the money in cash yesterday so they could purchase a valuable piece of property for her in Lakewood, a suburb. She said the men returned a brief case to her which they said contained her money and told her to meet them at a designated spot several hours later.

When they failed to return, Mrs. Silberberg grew suspicious and discovered the brief case contained only a pile of worthless paper.

HOME EVEN GETS NEW BUS

A no-new-car rule had been adopted for the 1931-32 appropriations by the Ohio Senate finance committee at the legislative session now in progress, but when they were confronted with an appeal for one new auto for the O. S. and S. O. Home in Xenia, members of the committee simply didn't have the heart to turn a deaf ear.

The biennial budget of the institution contained a request for a new passenger bus for the transportation of pupils on trips, and the finance committee was informed the Home is sorely in need of a new bus.

Committee members were told that the present institutional "hack" has outlived its usefulness and that it breaks down on an average of once every trip out. As a matter of fact, the driver now knows what to expect and is said to carry a spare rear axle on every journey.

HOLE MYSTIFIES OHIO VILLAGE

The object of more attention than it has ever received before, the tiny village of Malinta, O., thirty-five miles from Toledo, is still mystified over the mammoth hole, above, just outside the village and the accompanying shock that jarred northwestern Ohio. Whether the hole was torn by a huge meteor or ripped by a powerful explosive blast had not been decided by scientific investigators.

LEGISLATURE COMPLETES MOST OF NEW OHIO TAXATION PROGRAM

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—With the major part of the taxation program—the intangible and motor vehicle tax bills—out of the way, the path seemed clear today for the state legislature to pack up and adjourn next Thursday or Friday.

One of the biggest problems remaining to bother the assembly is the bugaboo budget, and, although the legislature was holding its customary week-end recess today, the house finance committee met here to persevere over the task of lopping about $15,000,000 from the

WILL ASK CONGRESS TO CONSIDER LEGAL BEER MANUFACTURE

Bingham Interested In Economic Effect Of
Plan

WASHINGTON, June 12.—The new congress will be asked to investigate the economic and social effects of legalizing four per cent beer, in view of the Wickersham commission's failure to complete such an inquiry, it was announced today by Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut.

Bingham declared he would introduce his bill, amending the Volstead act to permit the manufacture, transportation and sale of four per cent beer. He said he would have it referred to the senate manufacturers committee, of which Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, is chairman, and ask that committee to conduct the inquiry into its economic and social effects.

A like inquiry was undertaken last spring by individual members of the Wickersham commission, who at the time considered the effect of legalizing beer. Questionnaires sent out at the instance of one member of the commission brought a host of information but the commission decided this phase of investigating the prohibition question was beyond the scope of its inquiry, so that no official action was taken on the subject.

Bingham joined with Rep. Dyer (R) of Missouri, and Senator Wagner (D) of New York in declaring the legal sale of beer would tend to solve both the unemployment problem and the current depression. He rather agreed with Dyer, that state and federal revenues from such a legalized trade would solve the tax problems of the nation.

"It seems that in view of the fact that many experts—taxologists and physiologists—have declared four per cent beer is not intoxicating in fact, this is a proper problem for congress to consider. We should learn the effect of legalizing four per cent beer on business in general, determine its legality under the constitutional amendment, and its general effect on society," Bingham said.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

STUEBENVILLE, O., June 12.—The accidental discharge of his shotgun when he fell from a fence late yesterday caused the death of Walter Clark, 44-year-old farmer, authorities were convinced today after the completion of an investigation.

Who Caught Pet Trout At Rapidan? Dispute Rages

WASHINGTON, June 12.—As the imaginative writers would say, another bombshell has been exploded in the great Rapidan fishing controversy—a controversy which began when Assistant Secretary of the Navy E. L. Jahncke formally charged Ambassador Hugh Gibson with fishing in one of the ornamental pools at President Hoover's mountain camp and catching a rainbow trout which turned out to be "Toby," the pet of little Peggy Anne, who is the executive's five-year-old granddaughter.

Today's latest development was the revelation that Gibson was not the first week-end guest at Camp Rapidan to catch one of these liver-fed, and therefore sacred, fish. Rep. Will R. Wood (R) of Indiana, hard-boiled chairman of the house ways and means committee, was the first offender, according to reliable information, and Wood is one who prides himself on his piscatorial ability.

As the story goes, Wood, who was present the week-end the war department officials conferred over paring the army budget, decided to get in a little fishing while the warriors caucused. Reminiscent, no doubt, of that last 75-pound sailfish he caught in Florida, the Hoosier took rod and reel and went in quest of a pool along the stream.

Fate guided him to the one in front of the President's cabin, where there are naught but rainbow trout, fed daily by the help and far superior in size to the scrawny brook trout for which Mr. Hoover casts downstream. No sooner was his fly on the water, of course, than he had a robust bite.

Wood took the fish back

MINE WORKERS ASK PRESIDENT TO CALL JOINT CONFERENCE

Move To Stabilize Industry
Started At
Meeting

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 12.—President Herbert Hoover was asked to call a joint conference of the nation's coal operators and miners for stabilizing the coal industry, in a resolution adopted by the executive board of the United Mine Workers in session at the international headquarters here.

The resolution signed by International President John L. Lewis set out that "unrestrained competition has degraded thousands of bituminous coal miners to levels approximating serf labor" and that a joint parley of operators and miners was necessary "for the purpose of mutually discussing the problems of the industry and finding a common understanding."

The miners' resolution warned that "the inhuman plight of women and children in the coal mining regions, the insecurity of capital assets of the coal companies and the degradation of the men employed in the mines are breeding communism and anarchy."

President Hoover was reminded that "your knowledge and experience as a mining engineer especially equip you to recognize the necessity of the bituminous coal industry's adopting a program stabilizing labor costs as the first fundamental step to a correction of present day evils."

BURGLAR SHOT BY HOUSEWIFE

AKRON, O., June 12.—Joseph F. Liprot, 29, of Akron, was shot and critically wounded here today by Mrs. Lily Henderson, police said, when Liprot allegedly was caught in the act of burglarizing the Henderson residence.

Questioned at police headquarters, Mrs. Henderson declared she fired at the man as he started up the front stairway of her home, according to authorities.

Four or six shots fired from an automatic pistol struck Liprot, two charges taking effect in his stomach. Attached at City Hospital little hope for his recovery.

Mrs. Henderson was held by police, pending outcome of the man's injuries.

FAMED WOMAN FLYER IS HURT

ABILENE, Texas, June 12.—Amelia Earhart Putnam, famous trans-Atlantic flyer, was slightly injured here today when an autogiro airplane in which she was enroute to the East crashed as she was taking off from Kinging Airport.

Failing to gain altitude, the ship struck two automobiles parked on the edge of the flying field and fell to the ground.

Infant smothered under blankets.

TOLEDO, June 12.—An eight-month-old child today had been smothered to death while riding, heavily wrapped, from Cleveland to Toledo in the rumble seat of her parents' automobile.

June Irene Neubert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Neubert, was found dead in the rumble seat when they arrived here. Physicians said the child probably was smothered because she was so heavily blanketed.

FAMILY OF MURDERED HEIRESS

Finding of a diary which had been kept by Starr Faithfull, beautiful New York heiress, whose body was found off Long Beach, has convinced authorities that the 25-year-old step-daughter of a New York and Boston manufacturing chemist, was murdered. A conference between the district attorney and the girl's family, above, disclosed the diary. Photo shows Tucker Faithfull, Mrs. Stanley Faithfull, mother, and Faithfull step-father of Starr, in their New York home awaiting further developments.

THREE NEW OFFICERS SELECTED ON POLICE DEPARTMENT FRIDAY

SNIPER CONFESSES

Edgar Carder, Stanley Nichell, Lawrence Purdom Win Posts

Appointment of Edgar Carder, 307 Cincinnati Ave., Stanley L. Nichell, 520 N. West St., and Lawrence Purdom, 523 N. West St., as three new members of the Xenia police department was announced Friday by City Manager M. C. Smith.

The appointments are effective Saturday. Carder and Nichell are assigned as regular patrolmen and Purdom as day desk sergeant.

Twenty-eight applicants took a civil service examination at City Hall Thursday night to determine eligibility of candidates. The names of the nine candidates who ranked highest were certified by the Xenia Civil Service Commission Friday morning to Manager Smith as being eligible for appointment.

Carder ranked highest on the eligibility list while Nichell stood second and Purdom was fourth.

Purdom, the new day desk sergeant, succeeds Ernest J. Mangan, who had been serving temporarily under a provisional appointment made last March following the resignation of Michael E. Graham, former police chief, who retired on pension.

The other two vacancies on the department were created several weeks ago by the resignations of Captain Charles Thompson and Patrolman J. E. Craig. Following resignations of the two officers, Carder and John Mays have been serving temporarily as special patrolmen assigned to the night shift.

The examination conducted in the City Commission Chamber Thursday night was in progress two hours, tables being arranged throughout the room for the benefit of candidates. Each applicant was required to fill out a questionnaire, after which the Civil Service Commission, composed of Attorney W. L. Miller, Edward Wood and T. J. Kennedy, questioned each candidate separately.

The nine applicants certified by the commission as eligible for appointment on the police force, listed in the order they ranked in the examination, follow:

Edgar Carder, 307 Cincinnati Ave.; Stanley L. Nichell, 520 N. West St.; Walter C. Jones, 209 Bellbrook Ave.; Lawrence Purdom, 523 N. West St.; Kent C. Holland, 205 Bellbrook Ave.; Edgar Holten, 104 W. Main St.; William Jesse Dorton, 214 W. Main St.; Walter P. Leopold, 434 S. Detroit St.; David E. Martin, 234 Bellbrook Ave.

GUARD CALLED OUT

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—Ohio National guardsmen from ten Ohio cities, 525 in strength, have been ordered to Marion Tuesday for duty in connection with President Hoover's visit and dedication of the Harding memorial tomb. It was announced today by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson.

TWO THOUSAND NINE STRIKERS ATTEMPT TO FREE PRISONERS

Help Sought As New Disorders Feared; Arrest Leader

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., June 12.—Reinforcements and a new supply of tear gas bombs were rushed here today to quell a second attack on the Belmont County jail where thirteen striking miners were held.

Two thousand men and women stormed the jail last night in an effort to force the release of the miners, arrested during recent disorders at the new Lafferty mine of the M. A. Hanna Coal Co.

Sheriff Howard Duff, forty sheriff's deputies and several American Legion members, armed with tear gas bombs and machine guns, drove the crowd back. Leo Thompson of Pittsburgh, national miners' organizer, and said to have led the jail attack, was arrested.

Sheriff Duff sent for aid and more bombs after the leaders of the rushing crowd said they would return to the jail today in an effort to release the prisoners.

During the melee last night, Duff was struck by several of the demonstrators. Deputies rushed to his aid and boarded the milling mass with tear gas bombs. Seven women and five men were overcome as the crowd scattered.

The thirteen striking miners held in county jail here were arrested late yesterday when an incited mob rushed the new Lafferty mine. The invasion was broken up by Duff and his deputies who held the crowd back at the point of guns and with threats of using tear gas bombs.

The strike leaders staged the march on the mine, which employed 350 men, hopeful of forcing its suspension.

As a result of yesterday's disorders, the entire mining region of southeastern Ohio was under armed patrol today. Sheriff Duff declared he was determined to halt violence.

The raid on the county jail here last night, climaxed a day beset with disorders of bombings and attacks.

Sheriff Duff indicated today that unless peace is reached soon between union and non-union workers and mine operators, an appeal

SIX HURT WHEN TRUCKS CRASH IN COLUMBUS

Laborers Injured And Speeding Driver Runs Away

COLUMBUS, O., June 12.—Six Negro laborers were seriously injured today when two trucks escaped unscathed here today when a Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Co. motor truck collided with a Sinclair Oil Co. truck.

The driver of the railway truck, which was completely demolished in the accident, fled, according to police. A search was started for him.

Lonnie Stevenson, a laborer who was riding in the front seat of the truck, said that the driver, known to the laborers only as "Tom," was driving recklessly and had the accelerator "down to the floor."

Stevenson told police the driver "laughed at us" when the men complained that he was driving too fast a few minutes before the crash.

Besides Stevenson, those injured were John Griffin, Jeff Graham, James T. Hill, Harrison White, and Charles Gannes.

All were rushed to University Hospital where it was found that they suffered broken arms and legs, severe body bruises, and possible internal injuries.

ALLEGED BIGAMIST HELD TO GRAND JURY

Charged with being a bigamist, John H. Wheeler, 34, colored, 1037 E. Second St., was held to the grand jury under $500 bond by Municipal Judge E. Dawson Smith Friday. In default of bail he was sent to jail.

Arriving in Xenia from Philadelphia, Pa., to be the prosecuting witness, Wheeler's first wife declared she had not divorced her husband as he claimed, and, furthermore, did not intend to. She said they were married in 1919.

Fleeting not guilty to the bigamy charge, Wheeler said he remarried recently under the impression his first wife had obtained a divorce decree.

BANKERS' STUDY TAXES

TOLEDO, O., June 12.—A study of Ohio's proposed new tax laws and their probable results to financial institutions was started at the final session of the forty-first annual convention of the Ohio Bankers' Association here today.

will be made to Governor George White for national guard protection.

Belmont County commissioners appropriated $25,000 yesterday to combat alleged Communist activities, said to be responsible for the recent outbreaks. Their action followed that of Jefferson County commissioners, who appropriated $2,500 for the employment of ten additional deputy sheriffs to quiet strike troubles.

STEUBENVILLE, O., June 12.—Ohio, which once had a membership of 55,000 in the United Mine Workers of America, will soon be back on the union map with a sufficient personnel to warrant a request to coal operators in the state for a conference to discuss means of putting the Ohio coal industry back on its feet, union organizers predicted today.

Before leaving last night for Indianapolis, Percy Tellow, who is in charge of reorganization activities of the United Mine Workers of America in Ohio, declared that approximately 90 per cent of the coal miners of the Hocking and Guernsey districts—two important Ohio coal fields—will be back in the union folds.

"The three years of operations under open shop conditions have proved the need of a stabilizing influence such as the mine union," Tellow said. He asserted that whereas prior to 1928 the Ohio coal fields faced their greatest source of trouble from "cut-throat competition" in West Virginia and Kentucky, today the under-cutting is taking place at home.

"Each of the smaller operators is slashing wages in order to get business until today there is no bottom and operators, miners and communities have suffered alike," he declared.

"The situation today is such that only by united action can the operators and miners save the trade, which has been plunged into its worst depths by lack of a union to enforce a scale that kept all companies on an equal labor cost basis."

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—Convinced that mine disorders in Pennsylvania and Ohio may have tragic results unless halted at once, federal mediators today were determined to urge Secretary of Labor William N. Doak to intervene.

Fearing additional outbreaks like that reported near Steubenville when the home of a non-union miner was bombed, apparently by strikers whom he had refused to join, mediators returned to Washington to ask the secretary of labor to call a national parley between miners and operators.

Meanwhile, authorities increased their strength with which to combat possible new outbreaks by summoning additional state troops to the Pittsburgh district.

Governor Gifford Pinchot, entering the controversy for the first time, sent one of his personal representatives into Washington County to conduct a thorough probe of strike conditions.

The proposed conference which Secretary Doak will be asked to arrange would have to be called "without delay," mediators said.

Although quiet prevailed generally in most of the Pennsylvania district yesterday, new difficulties may be expected at any time, they said.

CAMBRIDGE, O., June 12.—Mass meetings will be held Sunday at Byesville and at Lewis Grove to receive reports on the success of the United Mine Workers of America membership drive to reorganize Ohio, union officials stated today. Committees from all mines in each district will report.

many men she knew, Edwards searched the little volume for references to Starr's fiancée.

It was revealed that while she seemed to have large sums of money most of the time, her mother and Elizabeth had seen periods of almost want. Starr was always fashionably dressed. The district attorney would not comment today on the possibility that the cultured young girl had been involved with blackmailers.

Edwards said he would question Elizabeth about clothes worn by Starr and herself and he especially wanted to ask Elizabeth about how she pawned a leopard coat last Wednesday for $20.

The girl's diary revealed that when visiting in England she and her mother and sister lived sometimes at the best hotel, sometimes in drab Chelsea and their finances varied from week to week.

The diary classed Starr as a pronounced neurasthenic. She believed that if she wrote things down when they bothered her they would dwindle to minor proportions. Many men were mentioned in the little book.

Edwards admitted today he did not know the names of the men Starr had seen on the day she disappeared. He said he did know, however, the name of one person who was with her that day and hoped through that person to learn who her companions were.

The district attorney is not satisfied, either, that Francis Peabody Hamlin, grandson of the millionaire, General Francis Peabody, has revealed everything that might aid in solution of the mystery.

Hamlin admitted having been with the girl on May 29 at the party on the Franconia.

PLAN PROGRAM OF UNION SERVICES

"Seek Ye Jehovah," a composition by Mrs. W. J. Cherry, Xenia, will be sung by the combined adult and high school choirs of the First U. P. Church at union services at that church Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. S. L. Brill, pastor of the U. B. Church, will deliver the sermon.

As a prelude to the service Miss Mary Keeley, choir director and Miss Marjorie Street, organist, will play two organ duets, "Fantasia" in three movements by Dickinson and "Evening Song" by Schumann. The choir's second number will be "The Lord Bless You" by Peter Lutkin and Miss Street will play as the offertory, "Canto Amoroso" by Sammartini.

Former Xenian Married Thursday Evening

MISS MARCELLA WILCOX, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert E. Wilcox, Canal Winchester, was united in marriage to Mr. J. Robert Spahr, Steubenville, O., son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwin G. Spahr, Hill St., this city, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Bexley Community M. E. Church, Bexley, Columbus. One hundred guests attended the ceremony.

Palms and ferns and baskets of pink roses and white peonies banked the altar where the service was read by Dr. Frank G. Fowler, pastor. A seven-branch candelabrum was placed on each side of the altar.

A program of organ music was presented by Mrs. Mildred Roberts Burch preceding the ceremony and Miss Mary Darlen Hamilton, Columbus, cousin of the bride, sang "Because" and "At Dawning." Miss Dorothea Whitus, Baltimore, Md., was maid of honor and Mr. Noel Maddox-Haines, nuptials performed in Wilmington.

Miss Sara E. Haines, daughter of Mrs. Daisy L. Haines, New Burlington, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles R. Maddox, Columbus, in a quiet ceremony performed at the parsonage of the Friends Church, Wilmington, Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Rev. O. Herschel Folger read the single ring service in the presence of immediate families of the couple.

Later luncheon was enjoyed at the General Denver Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Maddox left Monday afternoon for a motor trip to New York and points of interest in the East. They will return in two weeks and will spend the summer at the home of Mr. Maddox' father in Columbus.

Mr. Maddox is a graduate of Wilmington College and is a member of Delta Omega Theta sorority. She has been teaching in the East Liberty schools two years. Mr. Maddox is the son of Mr. Harry Maddox, Columbus, and is superintendent of schools in Kirtlandville, O., having been a member of the faculty there four years. He received his degree in education at Ohio Wesleyan University and took post graduate work at Columbus.

PIANO AND ORGAN RECITAL PRESENTED HERE. Piano and organ pupils of Miss Juanita Rankin were presented in an entertaining recital at Trinity M. E. Church Wednesday evening. Each of the numbers was played in a finished manner and a large audience of interested person attended the recital.

Organ numbers were given by Miss Harriet Reeder, Jamestown; Miss Margaret Hibbert and Charles Adair. Piano pupils appearing on the program were Margaret Ellen Haines, Jamestown; Jack McClelland, Mary Anne Kingsbury, John Wike, Betty Chew, Eldora Baughn, Thelma Fawcett, Helen Reeves, Mildred LeVeck, Nellie McCalmont, Charlotte Fudge and Martha Ann Baughn.

Other pupils of Miss Rankin who did not appear in the recital were Lura Tom, Julia Louise Bullock, Nancy McClelland and Charlotte McClelland.

INTERESTING PROGRAM IS PRESENTED BY W. C. T. U. The Rev. C. A. Arthur, pastor of the M. P. Churches in the Bowersville charge, was speaker at a meeting of the W. C. T. U. at the home of Mrs. Harry Devoe, near Paintersville, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. William Weiss, president, presided and Mrs. Earl Soward led the devotional service.

A paper on "Disarmament" was read by Mrs. Lillian Weiss and readings were given by Mrs. Joseph B. Mason and daughter, Jean. Piano solos were played by Lois Arthur, Thelma Fawcett and Pauline Woods and Mrs. Sarah Thompson sang a solo and also played a piano solo.

A social hour followed the program and an ice course was served by Mrs. Devoe assisted by Mrs. Elmer Fawcett and Mrs. Wilbur Woods.

INFORMAL BRIDGE PARTY GIVEN THURSDAY. Guests for four tables of bridge were entertained by Mrs. Paul Turnbull at her home on S. Detroit St. Thursday afternoon. At the close of the games Mrs. O. J. Lowe was presented first prize, Mrs. G. W. Kuhn, second prize and the consolation prize was awarded Mrs. Harold Fawcett.

A delicious refreshment course was served by Mrs. Turnbull later in the afternoon.

Miss Kathryn Reynolds, New-castle, Pa., will arrive here Saturday to spend several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Forest G. Hurley, Oaklawn Apts., S. Detroit St.

Mr. C. C. Mauck, Jamestown, underwent a serious operation at the offices of Dr. R. L. Haines, Jamestown Thursday. His condition is reported to be favorable.

Messrs. Charles Loyd, Dunkirk, Ind., Frank Loyd, Utica, O., and William Loyd, Gadsden, Ala., were guests this week of their sisters, the Misses Laura and Sophia Loyd and Mrs. Emily Ginn, Rogers St.

William Wallace Van Eaton, small son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Van Eaton, N. King St., who underwent an operation at McClelland Hospital recently, has been removed to the home of his parents. He is confined to his bed although he is improving nicely.

Miss Charlotte Lou Baker, Los Angeles, Calif., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Haines, Home Ave.

Eric Woodall, Cleveland, was best man. Messrs. Nihil R. Crider and William L. Howell, Columbus, were ushers.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of off-white satin, fashioned with a Chantilly lace yoke, round in front and forming a V in the back. The dress was made with long lines forming a small train in the back. Her veil was of rose point and duchess lace trimmed in seed pearls and orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom and carried a shower bouquet of tiny roses centered with a large rose.

Miss Whitus was attired in a frock of pink chiffon embroidered on the skirt in pastel flowers. It was fashioned along princess lines with a large blue satin sash. She wore blue moire slippers, pink lace mitts and carried pale pink roses.

A reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. Everett Williams, Columbus, following the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Spahr left for a motor trip in the east later in the evening. Upon their return they will reside in Steubenville. Both Mr. and Mrs. Spahr attended Ohio State University. Mrs. Spahr is a member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mr. Spahr, who is a graduate of Central High School with the class of 1924, is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and is employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., in Steubenville.

Pastor Receives Honors After Decade Of Service

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

TEN years of service as pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Market and King Sts., were recognized when the Rev. W. H. Tilford was honored at a reception in the Sunday School room Thursday evening. An informal reception was held from 7:30 to 8 o'clock and in the receiving line with the Rev. Mr. Tilford were Mrs. Tilford and daughters, Jean and Julia.

A program, opening with invocation by the Rev. Carl White, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Yellow Springs, was presented later in the church auditorium. Frank L. Smith, chairman, introduced the numbers, which included music by a vocal trio, male quartet, solos and piano and organ duet. Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College, gave a short address, congratulating the Rev. Mr. Tilford upon his service to the church. Louis Clark spoke as a representative from the choir and presented Mrs. H. C. Armstrong, choir director, with a basket of flowers. D. D. Jones represented the Sunday School in a short talk and Dr. A. C. Messenger extended congratulations from the men of the church.

Mrs. P. D. Espey spoke as a representative from the women of the church, directing her talk to Mrs. Tilford, this being her first appearance at the church after an illness of several months. She presented Mrs. Tilford with a large basket of flowers. An original poem "Our Minister and Wife" was read by Mrs. George Balder.

R. O. Wead presented the Rev. and Mrs. Tilford with a purse of money in recognition of their services. Both the Rev. and Mrs. Tilford responded, and in her talk Mrs. Tilford reviewed the ten years she has lived in Xenia and told of many amusing incidents which occurred when she first moved here.

Later light refreshments were served by women of the church in the Sunday School room. A large group attended the reception including ministers of other churches of the city and several people from out-of-town.

Mr. Barker was born in Falsom, W. Va., and spent his early life there. He moved to near Jamestown from Chillicothe ten years ago. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Catherine Barker, and the following children: Fleming, Akron, O.; Dewey, Dayton; Gordon, who is employed as a barber in Xenia; Mrs. Martha Beverlin, Columbus; Mrs. Emma Vance, Herford, Tex.; and Miss Bess Barker, at home.

Four brothers, Nelson Barker, Falsom, W. Va.; James Barker, Moundsville, W. Va.; W. J. Barker, Salem, W. Va., and Izara Barker, Youngstown, O., and one sister, Mrs. Sarah Hayhurst, Princeton, W. Va., also survive. He leaves two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The remains will be taken to Falsom, W. Va., for burial, the funeral party leaving Jamestown Saturday morning. Services will be held in a church at Falsom Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made there.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

FRAMED
by Phil

When bigger and better softball games, full of good, bad and indifferent playing, etc., etc., are staged, the Graham Paints and Downtown Country Club teams will have been dissolved. When these two teams get together anything but a listless game results.

There is little room for argument on the question that the Paints were the victims of a few tough breaks the 5 to 3 eleven inning tie with the Downtowners Wednesday night, but during the course of any softball season every team is at some time or other the unfortunate victim of circumstances.

Umpires, you know, are human and they sometimes err in judgment. Players and fans may take exception to decisions but they should not be too outspoken in their criticisms. Remember those who officiate the games are not serving as umpires because they like the task. None of them does. They try to be impartial and do their best. One of these days there may be a dearth of volunteer arbiters and it is a little known fact that softball games cannot be played without umpires.

To quote Boxie's pet observation, the umpiring is generally as good and often better than the playing. (This sermon is intended to fill up space).

Incidentally, "Pop" Boxwell, we can only suppose out of curiosity, remained at the athletic field one evening recently after a game until the crowd had dispersed. Boxie counted the automobiles as they filed out of the gate and by his count there were 143 machines. We are a little hazy as to the exact value of this information, other than it shows a lot of people are attending the games.

From Marion, O., where he has installed his Phillips Barrier System and where he is the starting judge at the Short Ship harness meeting in progress there this week, Steve Phillips writes that "everything is going fine and the Phillips Barrier is here to stay." Steve adds the information that Ray Henley, sensational 3-year-old pacer being campaigned by Joe Hagler, Xenia trainer, for his father, has been entered in the Commodore Perry pacing stake to be held at the Fort Miami track at Toledo, O., during the harness meeting there July 27 to August 1. Hagler's wiggler, with a mark of 2:08, made his first start as a 3-year-old at Greenville, O., last week, winning a pacing event in straight heats and establishing a new record of 2:05½ for this track.

This pacer was undefeated as a 2-year-old over Ohio half-mile tracks last year, winning nine consecutive races without losing a single heat. The horse was also separately timed in 2:01½ in a Grand Circuit race at Lexington, Ky. last fall.

The owner is said to have refused $10,000 for the pacer. This report may be a trifle exaggerated, however, as ten grand is a lot of money to offer for a young harness horse. Still, it may be true. They expect Ray Henley to pace the mile in around two minutes at the Toledo meeting.

XENIA PACER STILL IN UNBEATEN CLASS

Ray Henley, sensational local pacer being campaigned over Ohio half-mile circuits by Joe Hagler, Xenia trainer, is still unbeaten as a 3-year-old this season.

Hagler's speedster, running his second race of the year, was again driven to a straight heat victory in the 2:15 pace valued at $400, second event on Thursday afternoon's racing card at the Ohio Short Ship meeting at Marion, O.

Defeating a field that contained seven other pacers, Ray Henley was not extended to win the first two heats, and was then drawn up in the third heat, winning by a comparatively slow, being 2:10½ and 2:11½.

Official Pilot

After successfully undergoing tests at Roosevelt Field, near New York, Capt. Lewis A. Nancy (above), who, as a navigator, flew thousands of miles in record-breaking flights, became an official pilot for the first time. Nancy was navigator for Roger Q. Williams when they flew to Rome.

KIMBER KEEPS FOES SUBDUED AND MATES PUNISH BALL HARD

Baldner Leads In Attack; Storer Is No Puzzle

Revealing a hitherto unsuspected batting punch, the All-Stars hammered out seventeen hits of various dimensions and achieved a walk-away 14 to 1 victory over Central High School in an American League softball tilt at Cox Field Thursday night.

Living up to their name, the All-Stars not only hit safely in every inning, but scored one or more runs in each round but two.

Russ Kimber, winning pitcher, allowed only seven hits and was deprived of a shutout when the Bucs tallied one run in the first session on a single, an error and another one-base blow. That was the extent of Central's efforts in the run-making department and the All-Stars soon piled up a safe lead.

Storer, Central hurler, who, on May 31 held the All-Stars to one measly hit and defeated them, 2 to 1, in a seven-inning engagement, was anything but a puzzle Thursday night, and the winners pasted the ball to all corners of the lot.

"Brownie" Baldner, third baseman, was the kingpin in the attack of the All-Stars, contributing three singles and a triple, while Marvin Putnam clouted a home run and single.

Anderson, a double and triple, and Lane a single and triple. Huston and Lane each hit safely twice for the Bucs.

Despite the heavy clubbing the contest was completed in fifty minutes.

The Lang Chevrolets will engage the Criterion Friday night. Last May 8 the city champions were extended to the limit to beat the Clowders, 4 to 3. Lineups:

N. Y. STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, June 12.—A wave of profit taking in the early trading today forced prices of the active industrials and utilities about a point lower. The rails at the beginning of the session carried forward the advance which featured Thursday's close, Union Pacific leading with 2½ points rise to 159½. Early selling of the industrials was attributed mostly to the professionals, many of whom have been attempting to check the rise in the market leaders.

for lunch too. As a dessert, for the children's supper, as a healthful bedtime snack. Easy to digest. Wholesome and nourishing. No trouble to prepare. Ready to serve at a moment's notice.

If you don't know what delightful combinations you can achieve with ready-to-eat cereals and canned peaches, now is a good time to order from your grocer. Let good things get together!

It's Time for California Peaches and Kellogg's

SURPRISE the family with a wonderful treat tomorrow at breakfast. Order a can of luscious California Canned Peaches from your grocer and a package of oven-fresh Kellogg's Corn Flakes. Serve together.

What a medley of crispness and flavor! The taste of juicy fruit and toasted corn! Watch how appetites pick up.

Kellogg's are extra good for lunch too. Ideal for the children's supper. So easy to digest and healthful. Great for a late bedtime snack.

Don't forget the breakfast "surprise." Mark it on your grocery list, now.

More than 12,000,000 people each day enjoy Kellogg's, the world's most popular corn flakes. You'll surely prefer their tender flavor and crispness. Sold by all grocers. Served by restaurants, hotels. Always oven-fresh in the waxtite red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

NINE ST. BRIGID HIGH SENIORS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS THURSDAY

"Education founded upon Catholic principles stands in good stead in whatever line of life the students pursue after leaving school," declared the Rev. John Stedman, pastor of Holy Family Church, Frenchtown, O., at graduation exercises of St. Brigid High School in St. Brigid Church Thursday evening.

"The Catholic education adds to worldly ideals and improves upon them," Father Stedman said and he stressed the point that health of the student is necessary by strength of body, strength of heart and strength of soul.

The nine graduates and their attendants, boys and girls of the first grade, marched into the church singing "Onward and Upward." The boys wore white trousers and blue coats and the girls wore white silk sports frocks. The smaller girl attendants were dressed in pastel shades and the small boys were dressed in white linen suits.

Solemn benediction was celebrated with The Rev. L. Gerlach, Yellow Springs, celebrant; the Rev. A. Bernard, Oxford, O., deacon and the Rev. Lawrence Mollman, Jamestown, sub-deacon. The Rev. Edward Quadde, Liberty, Ind., who served as assistant to the Rev. Father Hector here thirty years ago, was present in the sanctuary.

Following the Rev. Father Stedman's address diplomas were presented to the graduates by the Rev. Lawrence Wessel.

The altar was attractively decorated with high candles and baskets of pink peonies and roses. Miss Dorothy Clemmer was organist for the service.

ANNUAL CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MEETING REVEALS PROGRESS

Evidence that the Christian Science movement continues to grow was indicated in reports at the annual meeting at the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ Scientist, at Boston this week.

Approximately 6,000 members from many nations attended the meeting. Delegates heard that steps for erection of the new $3,000,000 publishing house are being taken as rapidly as possible and that all indebtedness on the six acre tract surrounding the church, on which the building will be erected, has been wiped out.

A total of seventy-nine new branch church organizations were formed in the last year. The address of the retiring president, Duncan Sinclair, was a feature of the opening session and reports of various officers were heard.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. A. G. H. Baker, Miss Arnold and Miss Marguerite Ralls, Xenia.

"Hello, Folks!"

—The Tuxedo Man

"It certainly pays to have good cows, and it certainly pays to feed them well. More and more farmers each year are realizing the great economy of feeding Tuxedo Dairy. They find it increases their profit two or three times."

"One man tells me that Tuxedo Dairy produced noticeable results the second day after starting. The milk flow increased, and very soon the general condition of the cow was improved. That's just one case in hundreds that I know of."

"Tuxedo Dairy does make more milk. Will it help you? Certainly! It is milled for your cows, to be fed with the roughages produced on your farm. It's a scientific blend of selected grains, mineral salts, and PURE CANE MOLASSES. The price is right, too. Don't wait—start getting more milk!"

Circle 2 Hours—Land Safely

THREE WHO MAKE BID FOR WORLD BEAUTY CROWN

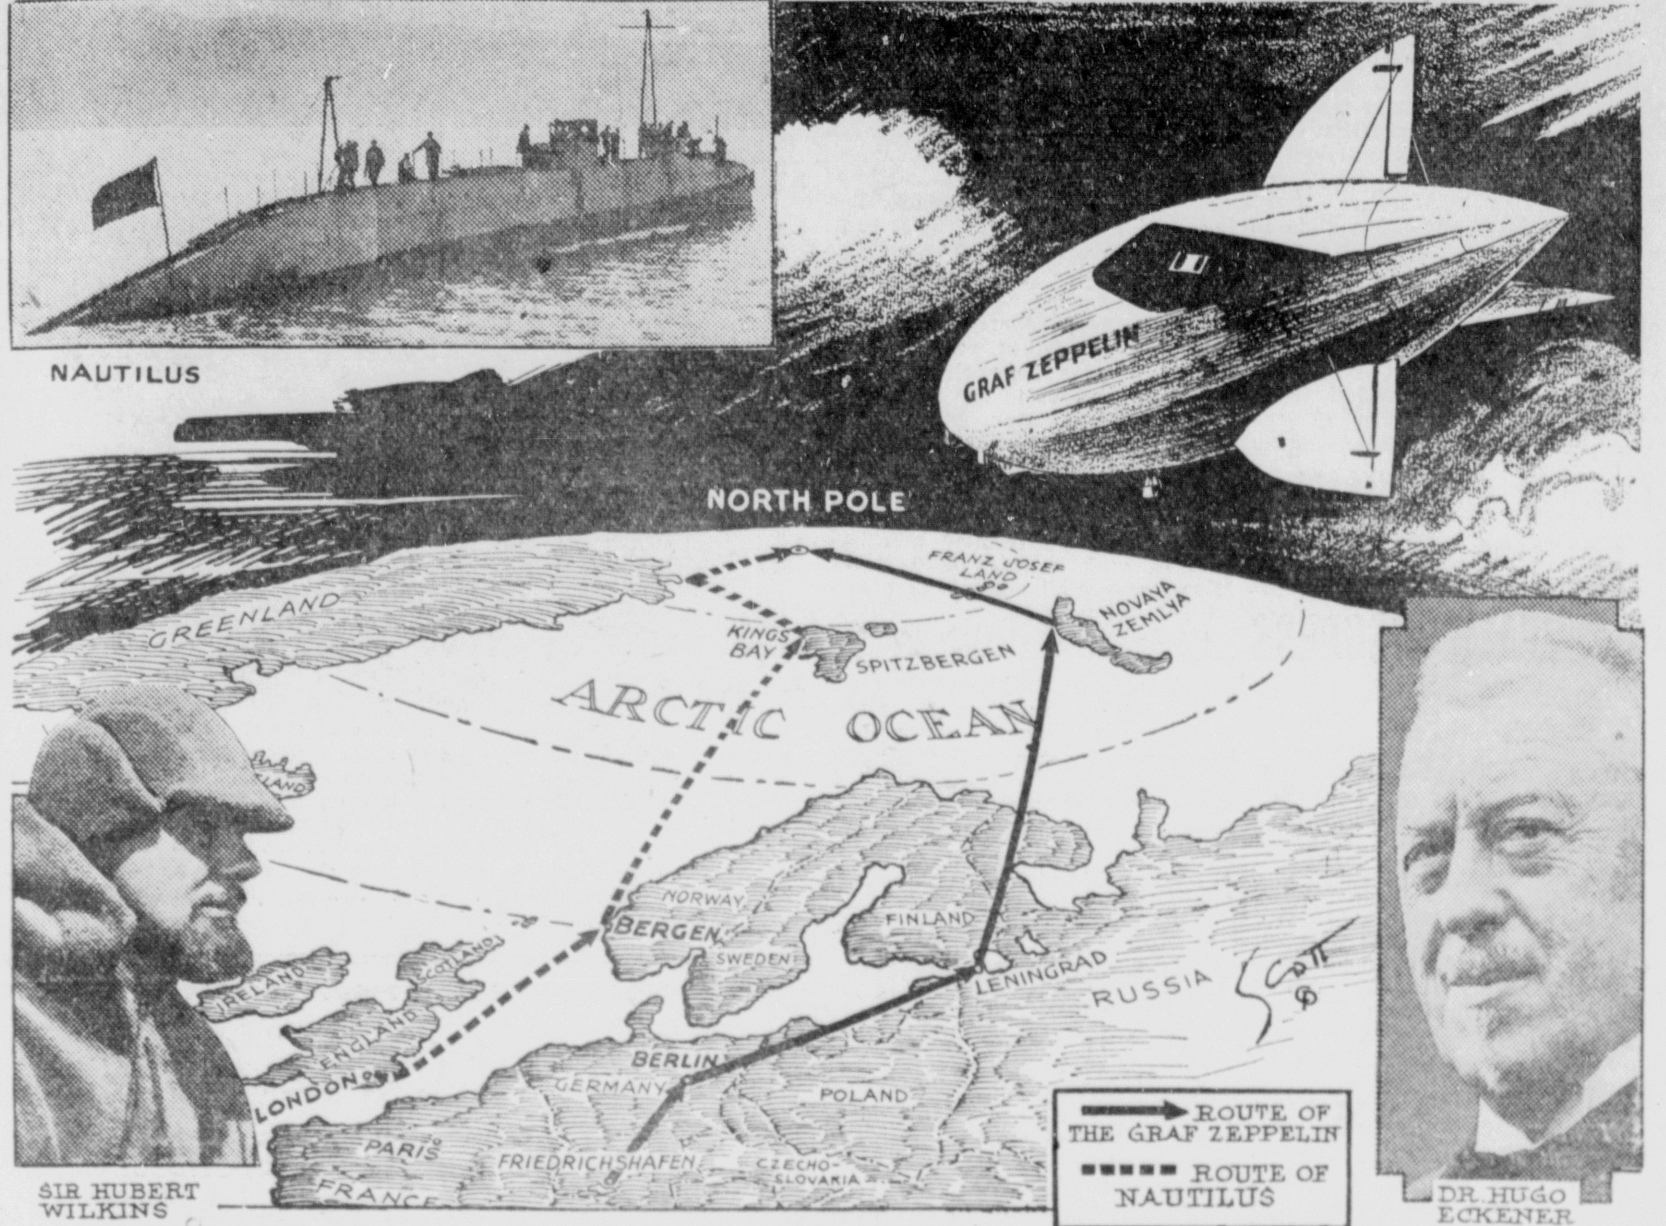

These beauties, competing in the International Pageant of Pulchritude, in Galveston, Tex., are, left to right, "Miss St. Louis," Miss Gene Rafal; "Miss New Orleans," Dorothy Lambour, and "Miss Scranton," Miss Elinor Klein. Miss Rafal is 19 and the other two are 17.

Man the Lips!

Although "Man the lifeboats!" is more of a nautical expression than "Man the lips!" the latter was in a class by itself in popularity when the 1931 class of midshipmen at the U. S. Naval Academy, at Annapolis, was graduated. Ensign J. C. Parham, of Washington, D. C., just commissioned, issued his first order just as this picture was taken. Dorothy White, his sweetheart, was not slow in obeying.

ALL READY FOR THE MOST DRAMATIC RENDEZVOUS IN HISTORY

Final arrangements are being made for the polar rendezvous of the submarine Nautilus and the Graf Zeppelin, sometime this summer. Photos above show the Nautilus and the Graf, top; below, Sir Hubert Wilkins, left, and Dr. Hugo Eckener, right. Map, center, indicates the routes both craft will follow to the pole, where they hope to meet for most dramatic rendezvous in history.

Cavalry Thunders for War Secretary

There is always something that stirs the blood in the movement of cavalry, something of the romance and glamor reminiscent of the days when "knighthood was in flower." But there is something pathetic as well as magnificent in the picture above. It shows troops of the First Cavalry in brave array on the plain in front of Fort Bliss, Texas, when they were inspected by Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley. There is some talk of throwing cavalry into the discard as an obsolete weapon of warfare and of closing up some of the picturesque old forts that served their purpose when our empire builders looked to them as their only sanctuary in the days when the "first American" practiced the outdoor sport of scalp-lifting. Photo at left shows Hurley with officers of Fort Bliss reviewing the parade and top panel presents the cavalry in a gallant effort to justify its existence.

Cuban President?

Rumors in Mexico City have it that Manuel Marquez Sterling (above), former Ambassador to Mexico, will become Provisional President of Cuba in place of President Gerardo Machado under a compromise plan agreed upon by the present chief executive and leaders of the opposition. Senor Sterling sailed recently from Mexico to Cuba to take part in negotiations.

May Get Power Post Harding Memorial Ready for Ceremony

Col. Frederick Stuart Greene, above, state superintendent of public works, in New York, may be appointed to the newly created post of state power authority. Imposingly beautiful and ready for formal ceremonies to mark its dedication, the memorial to the late President Warren G. Harding, at Marion, Ohio, will draw a group of distinguished statesmen, including President Hoover, to the former Chief Executive's home town June 19. An aerial view of the memorial is shown above in center, flanked by President and Mrs. Harding at lower left and right, and President Hoover at upper left and former President Coolidge at upper right. President Hoover will officiate at the long awaited dedication, while his predecessor in the White House is expected to make an address at the monument.

Too Good a Nurse?

Charging that Emily Ranos, pretty nurse of Chicago (above), forced her out of her own home and supplanted her in the affections of Dr. Henry J. Millstone, her husband, Mrs. Millstone had both hubby and Emily arrested and tossed in jail. Not quite satisfied, Mrs. Millstone also accused the attractive nurse of stealing two rings valued at $2,000.

Probe His Death

The mysterious manner in which David R. Murdock (above), prominent Boston banker and political leader, met his death in New York is being probed by police. When Murdock was found dead in his hotel room, while on a business trip, his right eye was discolored and his face bruised. Authorities are investigating the possibility of a fall causing his death.

Her Pictures Don't Flicker

Mrs. Bessie Lasky (above), wife of Jesse Lasky, American film magnate, is holding an exhibition of her paintings in the Cooling Galleries in London. Nine years ago, Mrs. Lasky had never held a paint brush in her hand. She is entirely a self-taught artist, too. But where her husband's pictures hold their charm with movement and sound, her's are quite still and very silent.

Royal Sweethearts

Princess Ileana of Rumania and her fiancé, Archduke Anton of Hapsburg, are completing plans for their wedding. It is reported they will spend their honeymoon in England, where the Princess will renew many of her schoolgirl acquaintances. This is the latest picture of the royal couple.

VACATIONS

And be saith unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest awhile.—Mark 6:31.

REST and change are indispensable. If one can, he should always take a vacation at some time in the year. Summer is the natural time for it. Then, if possible, everyone should store up reserves of physical strength for the strenuous working days. But the mind and spirit need nurture and stimulus as much as the body. Vacation ought to mean a time of refreshing for the soul. The open Church on summer Sundays calls to men and women to enter and worship. It will always be true that "they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength."

Those Who Sleep

A minister once told his congregation that the Church had comfortable pews, and that if they preferred to sleep Sunday morning, he would rather they slept in the Church than at home. There was a chance, he said, that they might wake up and hear something to interest them.

For Parents

The things children learn stay with them, in some fashion, for life. Sunday School will help your children avoid a limited vision by showing them the infinite possibilities of spiritual knowledge.

TRINITY M. E. CHURCH

Main and Monroe Sts.
E. A. Rager, Pastor

There will be no Sunday School Sunday because of the Children's Day program.

10 a. m.—Children's Day program. A fine program has been arranged consisting of songs, dialogues, recitations, etc. There will be special music by the junior choir under the direction of Miss Marjorie Street. The pastor will give a short Children's Day meditation entitled "The Ministry of Children." We welcome all to this program.

6:15 p. m.—Epworth League. An invitation is extended to all young people of high school and college age. The leader will be Mr. Ohmer Good. Subject: "Music."

7:30 p. m. Union church service at the First U. P. Church with Rev. S. L. Brill of the U. B. Church as the speaker.

Tuesday evening at 7:30 the last quarterly conference for the present conference year will be held with the District Superintendent Dr. J. C. Bickel of Dayton presiding. All heads of organizations are asked to bring written reports to this meeting, of the years activities. Because of this conference there will be no mid-week service. Theodore Roosevelt had nine reasons for going to church. Here is the first one: "In this actual world, a churchless community, a world, a churchless community, where men have abandoned and scoffed at or ignored their religious needs, is a community on the rapid down grade. Watch for his other eight reasons appearing one each week in this column.

We welcome you to any or all of our services.

Mid-Week prayer service Wednesday evening at 7:30.

A cordial invitation is extended to strangers to unite with us in these services.

The Theater

After six months away from the studios, Louise Dresser is planning a reappearance in "Poker Alice," a story of the gold mining days in California.

"Poker Alice" is owned by Miss Dresser and her husband, Jack Gardner. It was collaborated on by Authors Philip Klein and Edward T. Lowe and is now being discussed by Fox with an end to producing and releasing the film. A definite decision will be reached upon Winfield Sheehan's return from New York.

Besides Fox, Paramount is also interested in having the star make the picture on its lot. Like "Calamity Jane," the character Miss Dresser portrayed recently in a Richard Arlen picture, "Poker Alice" was a historical figure in early days and, in fact, died but recently. But where the former was hard as flint, "Poker Alice" produces a picture pertaining to its own craft and to the general points of interest in the film colony.

Such is the story that radio plans to release as "The Miracle City" on its new program. Originally it was to be known as "Hollywood Passion" but objections overruled the title.

Howard Estabrook has written the original story and Mary Astor is to be the star. Roscoe Ates is the only other member of the cast chosen so far. No doubt before the picture is finished it will contain a long list of celebrities as this type of film usually ends up with most of the notables appearing at some restaurant or function.

Maybe Jeanette MacDonald and Robert Riche were kidding when they announced June 9 as their wedding date. Riche has gone east and the nuptials are now in the indefinite class.

Twenty Years '11- Ago -'31

A new 5 and 10 cent store is to be opened in the new Kingsbury building by the Woolworth Co. of New York. Two Greene County postmasters, S. C. Wright, Cedarville, and W. O. Custis, Jamestown, have received $100 salary increases.

Carrie Nation, who gained notoriety by her use of the hatchet in the cause of prohibition died in a sanitarium at Leavenworth, Kan.

Lewis Gregg, member of the Gazette carrier force for eight years, has sold his route to George Horen. The route is on S. Detroit St.

LOUISE DRESSER

had a heart of gold, which will allow the star an entirely different characterization.

Miss Dresser's long absence has been spent at home caring for her mother, who dislocated her hip and suffered other injuries when she fell headlong down a flight of stairs. Now she is greatly improved and has been moved from the Beverly Hills home to a sanitarium. Being situated in a higher altitude physicians believe she will be fully recovered within six weeks.

With hardly any time off between pictures, William Bakewell jumps from one cast to another. His latest assignment is to furnish the romance opposite Madge Evans in Bayard Veillier's mystery story, "Guilty Hands."

Lionel Barrymore performs the chief character role, and Polly Moran will furnish the comedy. Francis is another member of the cast, having been borrowed from Paramount. W. S. Van Dyke will direct.

Belmont Stake Event To Be Broadcast Saturday

BY MILDRED MASON

LEW MCCARTHY, sports announcer, will be at the microphone Saturday at Belmont Park when Mrs. Payne Whitney's "Twenty Grand" winner of the Kentucky Derby this year, defends its claim to the three-year-old championship against the challenge of George D. Widener's "Jamestown" in the severe one-and-a-half mile Belmont stake.

Although there will be keen competition between these two horses one of the other horses entered in the Belmont stake may flash past the wire first. The program will be broadcast over an NBC network over WLW, Cincinnati, from 3 to 4 p. m.

To Announce Award

Dr. Francis D. Farrell, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College will announce the winner of the Capper award for distinguished service to American agriculture during the National Farm and Home Hour over an NBC network Saturday. The program will be heard over WLW, Cincinnati, from 12:30 to 1:30 o'clock. The award was established by Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas.

Fritz Scheff on Air

Fritz Scheff, light opera star, who first rose to fame on the melody, "Kiss Me Again" in "Mlle. Modiste" will be presented in a program over an NBC network through WSAI, Cincinnati, Sunday evening from 6 to 6:30 o'clock. She will sing several numbers and will also speak briefly, telling of her childhood in Vienna where her mother sang in the Vienna Opera.

Cobb is Guest Speaker

Irvin S. Cobb, author and humorist, will be heard as guest artist on the Enna Jettick program over an NBC network through WLW, Cincinnati, Sunday from 7 to 7:15 p. m. The "Sage of Paducah" will talk on "Why We Love the Old Songs Best" and old songs including "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Silver Threads Among the Gold" and others will be sung by a quartet.

Connie Mack, Jr., on Air

Connie Mack, Jr., son of the famous manager of the world's champion Athletics, will talk about "My Dad" when he appears as guest of the Bayuk Stag Party Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock over an NBC network through WLW, Cincinnati. The talk will be an especially timely one as Father's Day will be observed Sunday, June 21. Cornelius, Jr., is in his teens and is a student at Germantown Academy, near Philadelphia.

Opens Cincinnati Engagement

Eddie Neibaur and his Harmony Kings who have won national popularity as the result of their musical successes in the smart supper clubs of New York and Chicago will be heard over WLW, Cincinnati, from June 14 to 19 during their engagement at the Netherland Plaza Hotel.

Before Her Baby Came

"My mother gave me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when I came to womanhood. I was so nervous that I couldn't rest at night. After I took your Compound I felt much better. Then before my baby was born I took the Compound again. I felt strong all through the period. I was never in bed a day. I could rest good at night too."—Mrs. H. L. Buell, Marietta, Ohio.

GROCERY TARGET OF BURGLARS AGAIN

For the second time within the last two weeks thieves—believed by county authorities to be the same who burglarized the grocery last May 27—broke into the general store operated by C. O. Miller at Treblein late Thursday night, but this time the loot was negligible.

As on the preceding visit, the burglars broke the glass in a window to gain entrance, but presumably were frightened away by an autoist who stopped near the store to repair a tire between 11:30 and 12 o'clock.

The cash register was not rifled and seven cartons of cigars in plain view on a chair were ignored. The intruders helped themselves to ice cream and pop and may have taken a few cigars and small articles of merchandise.

Thieves two weeks ago took change from the cash register and a variety of merchandise.

Walton Spahr, chief deputy sheriff, investigated the latest burglary.
